Fine, cold weather. The maximum temperature yesterday was 41.5 and the minimum 19.9, the figures for the corresponding day last year being 32.4 and 26.6.

DYER HERE TO LEARN FACTS WITH VIEW TO AIDING TRADE

Congressman Tells Aims in Peking Interview

ASKS QUESTIONS

Hints That Chinese Must Put House in Order

(China Press Service)

Peking, Jan. 28.—Congressman Dyer, author of the China Trade Act, in expressing his appreciation today of the welcome extended to him in China, said it had been a great pleasure to him to meet at Peking President Li Yuan-hung and officials of the Ministries to whom he felt indebted for personal courtesies extended.

Mr. Dyer in speaking of the objects of his present trip to China said:

It is my desire to promote goodwill in the relationship in trade interests between my country and China. In Washington a great part of my endeavors in recent years has been devoted to that end.

My present visit to China is intended primarily to obtain at first hand information which will enable me to endeavor to secure legislation at Washington to support American business development in this country in connection with amendments considered advisable in the recently enacted Bill providing for Federal Incorporation for American business in China.

In view of the importance of measures now under consideration in Washington, which are largely an outcome of the Washington Conference, I will on my return to Washington express my impressions and conclusions on present conditions in China.

TO TELL IMPRESSIONS

I refer among others to such outstanding questions as the Commissions to be appointed to advise on Customs increase and consideration of the judicial system of China with a view to possible future abolition of extraterritoriality.

Information has also been sought from me touching the remission of the remaining Boxer indemnity funds aggregating between G.$12,000,000 and G.$13,000,000.

I may say the broad desire of the American people is that in supporting such measures they shall produce benefits which will satisfy American public opinion that the objects proposed will achieve constructive results in China.

The questions which I will be asked on my return to Washington are:

What are conditions in China today?

Are they establishing a stable Government?

Is the country now reasonably well administered and is progress being made in railroad construction and industrial development?

Can it be considered safe to extend to China financial assistance to help build up her communications and industrial development?

Are the Chinese sustaining their reputation for individual honesty in the management and administration of Government public utilities?

Are they meeting Government obligations?

IS SYMPATHETIC

I feel, in consideration of my known esteem and friendship for the Chinese people that what I say will be accepted by them in the spirit of goodwill and sympathy which actuates me in my views on China.

I will, for what I believe to be the good of China and America, state in Washington that—

I find China in a condition of chaos, with civil war south of the

Congressman Dyer Returns Tomorrow

Congressman L. C. Dyer, of Missouri, who has been in Peking for the past ten days gathering data on American business conditions in China, will return to Shanghai tomorrow night in order to attend the Shriners ball at the Astor House grill room. Mr. Dyer is a Shriner in St. Louis, his home city.

The Dog Watch

By Westa

THREE young women, all wearing starched aprons and with perky little starched caps on their heads, were sitting before a grate fire at Dr. Fearn's hospital not long ago, bewailing their fate. The last pillow had been smoothed in the adult section and the last shot of paregoric had been ladled out in the juvenile wards and so these three had convened in the reception hall down stairs to complain of the crool, hard hearted fate that had picked them out for night jobs.

"It was bad enough before," said one, "but now, with all these new cafes in town, it is simply terrible."

"Just think," said another, "with all these new orchestras playing every night, and us having to work."

"And I just love to dance," pouted the third.

"Pretty tough," said the first.

"Pretty tough," said the second.

"Pretty tough," said the third.

Thereupon they all fumbled in the creases of their starched aprons and fished out three nicely starched handkerchiefs, and with these they all began to mop up the starchy tears that had gathered in their eyes.

However, as the axiom runs, it's an ill wind that never comes home to roost, and so as they were sitting there, getting glummer and glummer and damper and damper and limper and limper who should come staggering in with a fresh hod of coal but the Number Two Coolie, who, significantly, was a fat, roly poly person with cheeks like apples and a bay window on him that would have qualified him as an aldermanic candidate had he lived in Chicago.

One of our heroines took one look at him and as she looked a great big beautiful idea popped right into the middle of her think tank.

"Girls!" she screamed so piercingly that all the paregoric bottles fell off the shelf. "I have it!—We'll start a cafe of our own!"

"Great!" said one of her listeners.

"Wonderful!" said the other.

"An' we'll do all our own cooking," said the originator of the scheme, ecstatically.

"An' all 'round the walls we'll have neat little pictures and mottos," said the second one.

Said the third, "Such as:

'Try our home cooking.
It will keep you good looking.'"

Said the first, "Or this:

'A steak, and for an obbligato
Try our special baked potato!'"

"Marvelous!" said the second.

"Wonderful!" said the third.

"Splendiferous! said the first.

Well, to make a long story short, those were the antecedents of the idea which on next Tuesday, February sixth, will find expression at No. 17 Nanking Road in the form of a cafe that will be known as "The Yellow Jacket," and which will be owned and operated by the three young women who formerly were associated with Dr. Fearn's hospital, Miss Christine England, Miss Jessie B. Love and Miss Grace Bean.

At first the cafe will serve only tiffins and tea but later on it is hoped to serve dinners as well. The cooking will be under the personal supervision of Miss England, who is a dietician by profession, and who knows more about the preparation and serving of tasty dishes than old Mrs. Childs herself.

"We're going to have all kinds of special dishes," said Miss Bean, "and every one will be home cooked."

"Our coffee," said Miss Love, "will be the kind that mother wishes she could make."

"Our tea," said Miss England, "will be the kind described by Kieulung, 'the kind you can taste and feel, but not describe—the precious drink that drives away the five causes of sorrow.'"

P.S.—The fat Number Two Coolie who strolled in with the hod of coal, and from whom the originator of "The Yellow Jacket" got her inspiration, will be Number One at the new cafe, and with all those scrumptious eats to sink his molars into will probably grow fatter than ever.

MEMORY OF D R. REINSCH IS HONORED AT SERVICE HERE

Dr. Hawks-Pott Delivers Inspiring Address

AT UNION CHURCH

American Organisations Send Representatives

A tribute to an American who devoted six of the best years of his life to creating more friendly feelings between the Chinese and Americans was paid at the memorial services for Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, former American Minister to Peking at the Union Church yesterday afternoon.

A large number of representatives of various organisations and many personal friends, foreigners and Chinese, attended the services and heard an inspiring word picture of Dr. Reinsch, the man, and the work he performed while the American representative in China, delivered in a masterful manner by Dr. F. L. Hawks-Pott of St. John's.

Before Dr. Hawks-Potts' address he read a prayer from the fifteenth chapter of Saint Paul's first epistle to the Corinthians and the choir sang a hymn. Following his address the choir again sang and Dr. Hawks-Pott delivered a short benediction.

MEMORIAL ADDRESS

Dr. Hawks-Potts' address was as follows:

It is fitting that we should meet here today to pay our tribute to one who was eminent in so many ways and whose life ended so tragically.

We do well to pass in review the main events of his career so that we may have a more lively appreciation of the man, his work and his character.

His public life falls naturally into three periods—first his work in connection with the academic world at the University of Wisconsin, then his work as a diplomat, as Minister to China, and lastly his work as Adviser to the Chinese Government.

As a scholar and as a professor, he displayed a deep, comprehensive, and thorough knowledge of political science. His love of thoroughness was perhaps derived from his German ancestry.

All who had the privilege of being his students testify to the stimulus and inspiration which they derived from their teacher. He was never content to be merely the scholar, but was always seeking for a practical outlet of his knowledge, and for its application to world problems.

TAUGHT AT UNIVERSITY

For fourteen years, from 1899-1913, he was professor at the University of Wisconsin, and during that period his interest came to be more and more focused on China. This may partly have been due to the fact that he became acquainted with a large number of Chinese students, attracted to the University by a desire to receive his instruction. This was the period of his greatest literary activity. In 1900 he published that very remarkably book "World Politics," and immediately won a reputation as one of the clearest thinkers on international problems. You will recall that in that book he pointed out the growth of the spirit of imperialism, warned his own country against it, and predicted the menace to the world of the German imperialistic policy.

He grasped very clearly the growing importance of China in the industrial and commercial world.

He pointed out that the United States should play an increasing part in the development of the New China, not in an aggressive way but by friendship and in a way that would be mutually advantageous to both countries. In 1911 he published another book in regard to the Orient. "Intellectual Currents in the Far East" which showed how closely he was watching the effects of the new thought on the old Chinese civilisation.

During this period of his academic life he wrote several books on colonial government and took a prominent part in Pan-American Conferences in the United States and in South America.

In the Year 1911-1912 he was Roosevelt Exchange Professor to Berlin and Leipsig.

Thus he unconsciously prepared himself for the second period

Tomorrow night's program contains four crackerjack numbers. Read it in tomorrow morning's CHINA PRESS.

Members of Islam Temple of the Mystic Shrine, who arrive here this afternoon on the President Wilson, were welcomed to Shanghai last night by radiophone, President George W. Fowler of Nomad Oasis speaking to the Pacific Mail liner from THE CHINA PRESS-Radio Corporation of China Station on the roof of the Dollar Building.

Passengers on the Wilson and the President Jackson, also due here today, heard last night's program, the music being particularly clear. Mr. Jack Morriss and his great jazz orchestra from Maxim's Cafe made a big hit and could be heard by stations in Shanghai and at sea very distinctly.

From the standpoints of clarity, modulation and carrying power, last night's program was one of the most successful since THE CHINA PRESS introduced broadcasting to Shanghai in co-operation with the Radio Corporation of China. From 9 o'clock until quarter to ten, amateurs who "listened in" reported by telephone to the station on the Dollar Building. All told Mr. E. G. Osborn of the Radio Corporation and his assistants that XRO could be heard clearly and without difficulty. The excellent modulation brought forth many complimentary comments.

The President Wilson wirelessed that the music and voices were very clear and complained that Mr. Fowler's welcome address to the Shriners was interrupted once or twice by a Chinese station, which insisted on sending at the time Mr. Fowler was speaking. The President of Nomad Oasis repeated his address.

The text of the welcome follows:

"To the nobles of Islam Temple and ladies—greetings and a hearty welcome from the Nobles of Nomad Oasis, Shanghai.

"We are delighted to inform you that the wells of our oasis are full and overflowing, we will be glad to have you stop and refresh yourselves after your long pilgrimage and allow the Faithful of Our Oasis to greet and welcome each and every visitor.

"We are looking forward to your arrival with great pleasure and we place ourselves entirely at your disposal.

"Again Nobles and Ladies of Dry Islam—Nomad greets you."

SHRINERS ARRIVE THIS AFTERNOON; LEAVE FRIDAY

Informal Reception And Dance Tonight—Ball At Astor Grill Tomorrow

The President Wilson of the Pacific Mail is slipping into Shanghai this afternoon about 1 o'clock—just a day ahead of its schedule—and the plans of local Shriners for entertaining the party of San Francisco Shriners and their wives aboard the Wilson have consequently been changed to some extent.

The American Shriners arriving on the Pacific Mail liner are en route to Manila to conduct a ceremonial during the Carnival there, and will return to China to hold ceremonials here and at Peking next about the middle of February. They will be met at the dock tomorrow by the entire membership in Shanghai of Nomad Oasis, the local Shrine club, headed by Mr. George Fowler, president of the Club, and an informal reception will be held aboard the liner.

Following the reception the Shriners will be the guests of the local members in sightseeing about the Settlement, and the ladies in the party will be the guests of the Shanghai Shriners' wives shopping. Mr. S. Libby, W. 1234, chairman of the transportation committee, has requested all local Shriners who have motor cars to have them at the dock tomorrow when the Wilson docks.

Tonight there will be an informal dance at the New Carlton on Bubbling Well, dinner jackets in mode, and tomorrow the Shriners will be given an auto tour of the Settlement and environs. Mr. Libby has requested that all Shriners who have cars have them at the Astor House, which will be their headquarters while they are in Shanghai, at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Tomorrow night the Shriners will have a grand ball at the new Astor House grill room in full dress and fez. Mr. Roger L. Moore, manager of the Astor House, has turned the new grill over to the Shriners for their exclusive use tomorrow night and only Shriners, their families or sweethearts will be admitted. Mr. R. E. Buchanan, Central 216, chairman of the ball committee, requests all Shriners who have not made reservations for the full dress dance at the Astor House grill tomorrow night to do so today.

The Shriners will continue on to Manila on the President Wilson on Friday, returning to Shanghai the middle of February for their 'big' doings here.

SUN SENDS ENVOY TO ASK RELEASE OF GENERAL WEI

Three Constitutionalist Armies Advancing On Canton

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 30.—It is reported that Dr. Sun Yat-sen has sent his representative, Mr. Tsen Chunhsuan, to request the release of General Wei Pong-ping.

General Li Lieh-shun arrived at Swatow yesterday and received a most enthusiastic welcome.

General Hsu Chung-chih's troops are leaving Foochow. General Hsu himself is leaving in two or three days. His forces are advancing on Kwangtung in three armies by different routes.

(China Press Service)

Hongkong, Jan. 30.—Following his recent circular telegram announcing his retirement from Canton when he recognised the hopelessness of the struggle to maintain his position against the invading armies of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, it is now reported that Gen. Chen Chiung-ming has left Kwangtung and has sailed for Singapore and the Straits Settlements.

The remnants of General Chen's troops have been placed under the control of Gen. Hung Chao-lin, who is at Swatow and who has declared his loyalty to Dr. Sun.

(China Press Service)

Canton, Jan. 29.—Latest reports indicate that the Kuomintang leaders may make Swatow the base of operations against the Yunnan and Kwangsi troops in Canton.

Radio Music Used During Caesarian Operation As Aid

(China Press Correspondence)

Minneapolis.—Radio as an aid to surgical operations was employed today for the first time in local medical circles when a radio receiving set was attached to the ears of a woman patient who underwent a Caesarian operation at a hospital. A local anesthesia was applied to the patient and the radio set adjusted. As the surgeons went about their work, the mind of the patient was soothed and distracted from the operation by the strains of music.

Mother and child both came out of the operation in fine condition and are resting easily, it was said. A band concert was given exclusively for the patient.

TURKS ARE BELLIGERENT; 'WAR IS INEVITABLE,' SAYS ADGAN BEY, NATIONALIST

London Gets Pessimistic Reports From Constantinople Regarding Outcome Of The Conference At Lausanne

KEMAL VOWS AT MOTHER'S GRAVE

"Will Not Lay Down Arms Until Liberty Is Achieved If Country Is Forced To Fight," He Solemnly Avers

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 30.—Constantinople telegrams speak of the pessimism of the Turkish leaders regarding the outcome of the Lausanne Conference.

Very warlike symptoms are being manifested, notably in the fact that Mustapha Kemal Pasha, before his departure for Angora, visited his mother's grave, where he solemnly averred that "If the country is called to take up arms, I will never lay them down until liberty is achieved." Adgan Bey is reported to have declared that war is inevitable.

GENERAL STRIKE STARTED BY RAIL MEN ON RHINE

French And Belgians Begin To Arrest High Officials

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 29.—The Quai d'Orsay announces that a general railway strike has been declared on the left bank of the Rhine.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 29.—It is reported from Duesseldorf that the French and Belgian authorities have begun to arrest and expel all high officials in the occupied territory who refuse to recognise the occupation authorities.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Jan. 29.—Strikes threaten to become general on the railways of the occupied area. A report from a German source states that a general strike will be declared at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Proof has been obtained, moreover, that the railwaymen have received two months pay in advance to strike.

The International services and the communications with France and Belgium will be assured by Allied engineers. Only the local population will suffer from this state of affairs and they appear little satisfied with the prospect.

At a meeting of the municipal gas and electricity workers of Duesseldorf, two-thirds pronounced themselves against any strike.

Acts of sabotage committed by agents of the posts, telegraphs and telephones are reported, notably at Cologne.

It is necessary to accept with extreme reserve all information from German sources. The Cologne Gazette, for example, alleges that the French have requisitioned all the buildings destined for contagious cases in the hospital at Essen, leaving the population defenceless against epidemics.

In reality the military have requisitioned only one of the six buildings comprising the contagious diseases hospital.

The Cologne Gazette again announces that the French have cut the cable connecting the Rhineland with Hanover and Berlin. In reality this cable was cut by Germans and has now been repaired by the French.

Finally the Wolff Bureau makes the French troops responsible for an increase of 122 percent in the cost of living in the Ruhr. Now all the supplies of the troops come from the commissariat. The French command also has forbidden soldiers to make any purchases locally and the increase in the cost of living is therefore due solely to the fall of the mark.

The Minister of Public Works, M. Le Trocquer, and General Weygand conferred this morning at Duesseldorf with General Degoutte and the Allied engineers. They will leave this evening for Brussels.

(Reuter's Service)

Exclusive Dispatch To THE CHINA PRESS

Lausanne, Jan. 30.—Ismet Pasha and the other Turkish delegates informed press representatives today that the conference could be saved if the allies were willing to recognise the complete sovereignty of Turkey, agree to a total abolition of capitulations, and arrange a suitable adjustment of the Ottoman debt.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 29.—While it is understood that the Council of the League of Nations will take up the question of Mosul in Paris on Tuesday, there are indications that Turkey may not await the League's judgment but may appeal to the arbitrament of force.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha has hurriedly returned to Angora from Smyrna in response to a summons of the Council of Commissars in order to preside at an extraordinary meeting of the National Assembly to discuss the situation arising from the failure of the Lausanne Conference.

Angora official circles state the Assembly will be called on to make very important and final decisions. They declare that the possibility of a rupture at Lausanne leaves the Turks unmoved and, unless the British Delegation alters its attitude at the last moment, Isment Pasha will issue a proclamation to the world explaining Turkey's position and leave Lausanne. The Turkish army will subsequently move on Mosul.

Meanwhile Bagdad reports that the garrison at Mosul is being reinforced by Army and Air-Force units from Bagdad.

(Reuter's Service)

Lausanne, Jan. 29.—King Hussein has addressed a Note to the Conference vigorously protesting against Turkish claim to Mosul, saying that Mosul is undoubtedly an integral part of Irak.

(Reuter's Service)

Lausanne, Jan. 29.—Interviewed after perusing the draft Treaty, a leading Turkish delegate expressed surprise at some of its contents, especially the financial clauses in which, he said, new elements not discussed by the commission had been introduced.

It appeared that the Allies intended to open a way to bargaining.

The Turkish delegate added that the draft Treaty would be communicated to Angora but acceptance in its present form was regarded as quite impossible.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 25.—The Temps notes that there is an increasing inclination to think that the delegations at Lausanne will reach an agreement to adopt an adjournment with the end of facilitating the final signature of the Treaty for the Turks.

The Agence Havas learns that the members of the American mission at the Conference have given the Turkish delegates to understand that Turkey would have difficulty in obtaining financial support from the United States in any form whatever and that a commercial treaty between the two countries would be very improbable so long as peace had not been concluded on the bases of the draft treaty drawn up at Lausanne.

SUN SENDS ENVOY TO ASK RELEASE OF GENERAL WEI

hung, who were hitherto Gen. Chen Chiung-ming's lieutenants and whose troops are stationed at Swatow and throughout the region of Chaochow and Meichow, have issued a manifesto, declaring their support for Dr. Sun Yat-sen.

DENOUNCES OUTRAGES

The message denounces the outrages of the "alien" forces in the provincial Capital and states that the Kwangtung troops and the Southern Squadron will take concerted action to deal with the invaders. Gen. Li Lieh-chun is now in Swatow where he was warmly welcomed.

Gen. Liu Chin-hwan, Commander the Kwangsi troops, has issued a statement, denying that he is hostile toward the Kuomintang Party. The statement has elicited much surprise from the public, in view of the fact that General Liu is understoond to have played an important part in executing the coup d'etat against the Kuomintang administration instituted after the collapse of the Chen Chiung-ming regime.

It is reported that there is a split between the Kwangsi and Yunnan troops and that dissension has also occurred in the Kwangsi camp. There is a suggestion that the struggle for power between Gen. Shen Hung-ying and Gen. Liu has led the latter to seek an alliance with the Kuomingtang leaders.

Gen. Liu has already left for Shekiung, seeing that Gen. Shen Hung-ying is plotting against him.

The 3rd. Division of the Cantonese troops hitherto under the command of Gen. Wei Pang-ping who was attacked, put under arrest and was reported to have been assassinated at Friday's Council of War summoned by the Commanders of the Kwangsi and Yunnan troops, was disarmed last night by Gen. Shen Hung-ying's Kwangsi army.

DID NOT RESIST

The Cantonese forces did not resist, in view of the plea of the local gentry to free Canton and Honam from a disastrous war, and because the delay in the arrival of Gen. Hsu Chung-chi's army from the eastern front would render resistance ineffective.

The 1st Division of the Cantonese troops has retreated to Kiangmen, in Hsinhui, to await further developments in the situation in Canton.

(China Press Service)

Peking, Jan. 29.—It is reported that Dr. Sun Yat-sen has dispatched telegrams to Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang, Inspector-General of National Troops, and Gen. Chi Shih-yuan, Tuchun of Kiangsu, declaring that the latest developments in the Canton situation have not been brought about by a struggle between the Kuomintang and Ching Hsuah Hui Parties for supremacy, as alleged. Dr. Sun points out that there has not been such a struggle. Dr. Sun further intimates that he may leave for the South in the course of a few days.

The report adds that Gen. Feng has referred Dr. Sun's telegram to President Li Yuan-hung. The President asks Gen. Feng to advise the Republican leader to defer his trip to Canton.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Jan. 29.—No authentic information can be obtained from the authorities with regard to the fate of General Wei Peng-ping, although it is believed that he is still being held prisoner.

The Cantonese Army no longer exists in Canton, having all been forced out.

The Civil Governor, Mr. Hu Han-min, has left for Hongkong.

The entire Punitive Army has been reorganised under the name of Yunnanese troops in order to avoid being disarmed.

General Shen Hung-ying is now the supreme authority in Canton by virtue of his position as Commander-in-Chief of the Kwangsi forces.

At present there are no civil officials left in Canton except those appointed by the Yunnan and Kwangsi leaders, all the others having left.

The Editor of the Canton Times was arrested on January 27 by the orders of General Hsu Chung-chi's commander, Hsu Chi-fuh, because of articles published in the newspaper criticising the action of the Constitutionalist leaders in inviting non-Cantonese troops into Kwangtung. The property of the Canton Times was confiscated. The Editor was later released.

Premier Opposed To Foreign Expert For Disbandment

(China Press Service)

Peking, Jan. 29.—While approving in principle Dr. Sun Yat-sen's proposal for the disbandment of troops, Premier Chang Shou-tseng is opposed to the suggestion contained in Dr. Sun's manifesto that the task of the disbandment of troops be conducted with the aid of a foreign expert.

Premier Chang states that he fears that this may lead to the interference by foreigners with the administration of the Chinese Government. Premier Chang will make clear his view in this connection in his reply to Doctor Sun, which will be issued tonight.

(China Press Service)

Peking, Jan. 29.—Gen. Tuan Chi-jui, former Premier, has replied to Dr. Sun Yat-sen with regard to the latter's proposal for the disbandment of troops and their conversion into labor corps as a preliminary step towards reunification in this country. General Tuan's telegram reads in part as follows:

"Of late, national finances have been in a chaotic state and military discipline has become absolete. The consequent stagnation of commerce and industry has gravely jeopardised the livelihood of the people.

"Undoubtedly, the most urgent necessity for national salvation lies in the disbandment of China's superfluous troops. Unless the military incubus is got rid of, it will be futile to attempt financial rehabilitation and the internecine wars in this country will forever continue. The more I think of the present state of affairs in China, the more apprehensive I feel.

"Your splendid proposal, set forth with a genuine desire to save the country, has my full approval. If the leaders of the different parties lay down their prejudices, bury their feelings of enmity and rivalry and work together for the good of the country, I, though being merely a man in the wilderness, will bestir myself and follow suit."

Baldwin, Debt Envoy, Attacked By U. S. Senator

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Jan. 30.—The storm of resentment caused by Mr. Stanley Baldwin's statements in an interview found an echo in the Senate yesterday when Senator McKellar (Democrat) declared that if the British Chancellor of the Exchequer had exhibited the same elements of sordid parsimony and uttered the same crude attacks on the American people while here the American Commission should not have treated with him.

Tea Stocks Low In United Kingdom

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 29.—Messrs. H. Tuke Mennel & Co. in their report on the tea market declare that stocks in bond in the United Kingdom are 37,000,000 lbs. less than last year. They note that the American and Canadian demand is changing from green to black teas. The Russian door is slowly reopening to trade. The Continent is very short of stocks. The report concludes with the remark that the higher level of prices has come to stay, as is evidenced by the fact that blenders' advance purchases are unparalleled in the history of the trade.

64 Russ Vessels Are Cleared In 3 Months

(China Press Service)

Moscow, Dec. 28.—The Russo-German Transporting Co., which operates vessels between Russian ports and Germany and England, cleared 64 ships between August and November. These vessels moved 30,000 tons of Russian goods, including flax, hemp, wool, scrap iron, horse hair, bristles and furs, and 14,300 standards of lumber.

Chinese And Foreign Officials In Ichow Getting Together

(China Press Correspondence)

Ichowfu, Shantung, Jan. 25.—The small foreign protestant community here has recently been the center of events of real, the local, historical interest. The first was the dinner given to the foreigners by the County Civil Magistrate. He is a comparatively young man, democratic and progressive. His beginning at road making was mentioned some time ago. At this dinner his wife and other local 'tai tais' sat at table with the foreign men and women and Chinese men. This is the first time such a modern thing has ever happened in Ichowfu.

Next, on occasion of his wife's birthday, the local military official, General Li, gave a dinner also to the foreigners, at which the ladies were again present. This dinner, unlike the first, was foreign in style, the General having just engaged a good cook from us.

In honor of the General's wife several magistrates from adjacent counties came in to pay their respects, and all these, together with the Lin I (Ichow) magistrate, and several smaller officials, and their 'tai tais' were then invited to a dinner by the protestant foreign community. After the meal they were shown around the various schools, and expressed much interest. One of the men, the ex-magistrate of the county of I Shwei, made an interesting speech to the boys of the McPherson Boys' Academy, during the course of which he said "I know the Bible. I have read it all. And I tell you it is worth your study and reverence. Jesus Christ is a Holy one of the West, even as Confucius is our Holy Man. I urge all you boys to study the Bible and learn this doctrine of Jesus Christ."

The culminating event was the Christmas entertainment given at the Presbyterian church, which the officials were desirous of attending and to which they did come and seemed to enjoy themall. They made a Christmas donation to the work here of $240. Of this $100 is for the carrying on of the summer Daily Vacation Bible Schools, which were started last summer and which created no little interest among not only the civilians but among the officials.

This gift and the interest these men are showing in the work of the Missionaries is the first that has been shown by the official class in this city. It is to be hoped that it will continue and grow. Intercourse between foreigners and Chinese officialdom in to the benefit of both.

To Hold Memorial Services Here For Dr. Max Nordau

Under the auspices of the local Zionist Association, a memorial meeting for the late Dr. Max Simon Nordau, whose death took place in Paris on January 23 will be held tomorrow at six p.m., at the Jewish Club 'Ahduth.' Rabbi W. Hirsch wil preside.

Dr. Nordau was next to the late Dr. Theodor Herzl, the founder of the modern Zionist movement, a well-known figure in World Zionist Organisation and his death will be widely mourned by the Zionists throughout the world. The local Zionist Association is in receipt of a telegram a few days ago from the head office of the Jewish National Fund at Jerusalem according to which a "Nordau Garden City" in Palestine is contemplated for which £50,000 will be necessary. A sum of £16,000 has already been contributed and it is hoped that the balance will be raised as a fitting memorial to the dead Zionist leader.

Financial Coueism
These days much attention is being paid to Coue and his teachings. Whether or not one agrees with all the doctrine, the central principle that the imagination is more potent than the will in producing action is significant for every saver.
Instead of determining, "I will save, I will save", picture the results to be accomplished by saving—a home of your own, a motor car, financial independence travel—and pretty soon you will find that you are putting away a portion of your income toward the realisation of your idea.
Then you can repeat from a financial standpoint the Coue formula of "Day by day,
In every way,
I am getting better and better."

Dr. Paul S. Reinsch Paid Tribute At Impressive Memorial Services Here

his life to be spent as United tes Minister to China. The pointment came to him in 1913, t it would have been difficult President Wilson to have de a better choice. His name ll always be ranked with the er two great ambassadors ap- ted at that time—Walter ge to Great Britain and Mor- thau to Turkey.

The period in which he was ister, 1913-1919, was a most tical one for the world and for ina.

Think for a moment of some the things that happened in country.

Japan's encroachment in antung.

The Twenty-one Demands.

The Coup d'etat of Yuan hih-kai

China's Break with Germany

Chang Hsun's attempt to re- ore the Monarchy

The Student Strikes

The Exchange of the Lan- ng-Ishii Notes.

All through this difficult period was a wise guardian of the erests of his own country, a ong advocate of the policy of e open door," and a faithful end and adviser to China.

He gave us an account of those ing days in his book, "An erican Diplomat in China" and m if we learn what type of n he was and what great aims set before himself.

He was anxious to interest his n country in the development China commercially, industrial- and educationally. He lament- the fact that our Government d country were so slow in lising the opportunities before m of really helping China and sisting in her rehabilitation. , like ambassador Page, was appointed because he did not t the support he had a right expect from the home govern- nt.

In his letter to President Wil- n submitting his resignation, he burdens himself, especially in gard to the Langsing-Ishii Notes d our failure to preserve the hts of China at Versailles.

During the six years of his re- ence in Peking, he made a host friends, both among the repre- ntatives of other countries and ong the Chinese officials. He s always desirous of promoting ity, and as one of the means to s end, he founded the Associa- n of Political Science.

From the beginning he ap- ciated that there should be the sest understanding between United States and Great Brit- , for to use his own words he d "The best minds of both na- ns have long realised that, with the industrial and commercial valry between them, they are one on the essentials of civilisa- n and government."

No minister ever had greater nor paid to him on his depar- re from Peking than Dr. insch. Dr. Tenny described the ne at the railway station as llows: "Although it is not cus- mary for guards of honor to be ndered by other legations on e departure of ministers, on is occasion there were present detachment from the British gation Guard, and there were so present detachments from e American Legation Guard, the king Police Force and the Pe- ng Gendarmerie, with military usic. The Acting Premier came person to the station to bid rewell to Mr. Reinsch and there re present a thousand persons, cluding Chinese officials, foreign plomats, representatives of all rieties of institutions and so- ties, and personal friends of all tionalities."

The President of China ex- essed the appreciation of his ople for the departing Minister these words. "The Chinese ok to you to be a friend and ide to them, and we hope your tion and influence may continue r many decades."

And so we come to the last riod of his life—a very brief one, for he died at the early age of sixty-three. He had given so much of his life to China that he still wanted to go on "to help a vast and loveable people to realise its striving for a better life."

He took up the position of Adviser to the Chinese Government. He was of great assistance to her representatives during the Washington Conference. He came to China last year to further plans that he believed would be for the benefit of this country.

Some of you may have read in the "Americanisation of Edward Bok," the author's account of his visit to Emerson, after the poet's mind had become clouded. It is full of pathos. And so for us Americans, as we think of Dr. Reinsch, the darkening of his mind during his last days (one of the most brilliant minds of our generation) seems to us infinitely pathetic and tragic. His life seems to have been cut off just when he could have been so useful in bringing about further co-operation between the United States and China.

But I must not close with the note of sadness, but rather with one of thankfulness.

We should be grateful for the example he has given us of a man of great ability and exalted character, with highest ideals in regard to the new diplomacy—a diplomacy based on mutual understanding among nations, leading to peace and harmony—imbued with the ethics of Christianity. He was a great American. He realised what his country really stood for. He applied and would bid each one of us apply to America those words of Wordsworth—

"For dearly must we prize thee: we who find
In thee a bulwark for the cause of Men."

A bulwark for the cause of men—that is what he believed her to be—that is why he prized her—that is why he wanted to extend her influence—that is why he spent his life for her—that is why his example will always be an inspiration to a true American.

MANY TRIBUTES

The American Company, S.V.C., attended the services in uniform and representatives were present from the American Club, the American Chamber of Commerce, the University of Wisconsin, the American Association, the American Returned Students Club, the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, the American University Club and a number of prominent Chinese. Magistrate Kwan, the Senior Magistrate of the International Court, and Mr. Kang Yu-wei, an old friend of Dr. Reinsch, were also present. United States Consul-General Edwin S. Cunningham, represented the American Government in the absence of the American Minister, Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, and Mr. James Davis and Mr. A. N. Allman of the Consulate also attended officially.

Expressions of condolence have been received from a large number who were unable to attend the services including Dr. Sun Yat-sen; Mr. Hsu Yuan, Commissioner for Foreign Affairs; Tuchun Chi of Nanking (personally and officially), and the Civil Governor of Tsingtao. Despite notification by the committee in charge of arrangements that no flowers be sent a number of wreaths were sent to the church. They will be placed on the graves of American soldiers in Bubbling Well Cemetery today.

The American Red Cross last night announced the receipt of checks of $50 each from the American Chamber of Commerce, the American Club and the American Association for Russian relief in memory of Dr. Reinsch, and a check for $15 from Mrs. Edwin S. Cunningham for the same purpose.

STUDENTS' CONDOLENCES

The following resolution has been passed by the American Returned Students Club:

"The American Returned Students Club comprising in its membership Chinese graduates and former students of American colleges and universities residing in Shanghai hereby expresses it deep regret at the death of Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, former American Minister to China.

"Dr. Reinsch has been known to us for many years, both in his official capacity as American Minister to China and in private life as a professor in the University of Wisconsin.

"As a professor he was known to many of our members who had the very great pleasure and profit of being students in his various classes in political science and other subjects. As a teacher he endeared himself to us because of his sympathetic interest in our welfare and the welfare of our country.

"In addition to our contact with Dr. Reinsch as a teacher we have also known him through his various books and other writings. In this way he has shown a deep knowledge and insight into conditions in this part of the world and has always displayed a sympathetic interest in helping China in her struggles for independence, unification and progress toward better things.

"Resolved that the foregoing expresses the sentiments of our entire membership and that a copy be supplied to Mrs. Reinsch as an expression of our esteem for Dr. Reinsch and of our sympathy to her in her bereavement."

Russian Economic Review

"The Russian Economic Review" which has an English and Russian section, and issued weekly, is quite a valuable publication for merchants.

There is a wealth of interesting information on the trade of Russia and the enormous opportunities that that country offers to merchants. The economic situation in Soviet Russia and in Manchuria are dealt with intelligently, and the publication altogether is a valuable contribution to financial journalism.

In the last number the trade returns between China and Russia are given, but these are principally for the trade that passes Manchuli and the east terminus of the Chinese Eastern Railway. There is a chronicle, as well, of the conditions prevailing in the Vladivostok, Harbin, Habarovsk and other markets. There is no doubt that the weekly is fulfilling the mission for which it was founded.

The January number contains information concerning economic conditions in Siberia and Russia, also the foreign trade in Russian Far East with Soviet Rule, and wholesale prices at Kalgan, Harbin and trade points.

Peking Notes

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 30.—It will be remembered that, at the time of the election of the Ministers of the Cabinet by the Senate, the rejection of Mr. Peng Yun-yi as Minister of Education was expected but that he was elected by a narrow margin, largely owing to the Parliamentary desire to show that they would not be browbeaten by student agitation.

Mr. Peng has now resigned but a Presidential mandate refuses to accept his resignation.

Mr. Chiang Yung, Director of the Law and Jurisprudence Bureau, also resigned, protesting against the illegal re-arrest of Dr. Lo Wen-tao. His resignation also has not been accepted.

The Staff of the High Court of the Special Judicial District have also protested against the second detention of Dr. Lo, stating that it may prejudice the movement for the abolition of extraterritoriality.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 30.—Mr. Yen Teh-ching has been appointed Chief of the Kiaochow-Tsinan Railway.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 30.—The Finance Minister has appointed Mr. Peng Hsieh Chief of the General Department and Mr. Hu Jen-ching Chief of the Treasury Department.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 30.—The Senate is discussing the Speakership tomorrow.

In spite of the efforts of mediators, the rival factions have not yet reached an agreement.

The election of a Speaker in the near future is regarded as unlikely.

Peking, Jan. 30.—The Cabinet has appointed Mr. Yang Cheng, formerly Foreign Commissioner at Shanghai, to proceed to Batavia and Malay to inquire into the conditions of Chinese there.

Bank Clerks Draw Long Sentences For $3,500 Fraud

Two of three youthful bank clerks charged with defrauding the American-Oriental Banking Corporation of $3,500 were sentenced to three years' imprisonment by Assessor Allman and Magistrate Kwan of the Mixed Court yesterday. The third defendant was discharged.

In giving the decision the Court ruled that if either of the convicted men comes forward with evidence resulting in the conviction of others concerned in the fraud the Mixed Court will consider a reduction of the sentence.

Wedding

OTT—ANDREWS

A quiet but interesting wedding took place at St. John's Cathedral, Hongkong, when Mr. Karel Ott and Miss Mamie Varina Andrews were married on January 24. Both are Shanghai residents, Mr. Ott being in the firm of Zylstra Trading Company.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white charmeuse with tunic of Brussels lace, the train being of soft brocade caught at the left shoulder with a pearl ornament, and the corner of the train having a spray of orange blossoms in the form of a true lover's knot: the waist was fastened with an oxadised silver girdle with cupids and tiny wreath of orange blossoms. She wore a wreath of orange blossoms, the veil being of soft tulle. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and maiden fern, and Mrs. Fraser, of Shanghai, wearing pale blue crepe de Chine and carrying a bouquet of pink roses acted as maid of honor.

The bride was given away by the American Vice Consul Mr. Francis O. Lidle of Hongkong, Mr. Fuller was at the organ, and the Rev. Copley Moyle officiating. The bride's going away costume was fawn ribbed silk with ostrich feather boa to match, and her hat was cream georgette with ostrich plume.

The honeymoon is being spent in Manila where the usual Carnival takes place very shortly. Mr. and Mrs. Ott will be returning to Shanghai and will be "At Home" to their friends on March 10, at 5 Yates Road. No formal invitations are being issued, but all friends will be welcomed.

UNION CHURCH

This evening's event for the Union Church Literary and Social Guild is a lantern lecture entitled "The Romance of Australia and some of its Beauty Spots" by Mr. J. W. Dovey. Little has kindly consented to take the chair. The meeting will be in the large hall and is to begin at 8:45.

Sergeant Clissold Soon To Marry Miss G. Baggot

The forthcoming wedding is announced of Sergeant John B. Clissold, a member of the International Mixed Court staff and one of the most popular and best known members of the Municipal police, and Miss Gwendoline Baggot, who has just arrived in Shanghai from England.

Mr. Clissold is secretary of the Police Football Club, and has played for the football team for many years. His favorite position is full back, and with Jimmie Quayle, as his partner, he has been partly responsible for the finest defence combination in local football circles. At the Mixed Court Monday, Sergeant Clissold was presented with a beautiful clock by his foreign colleagues.

CHINESE ON TRIAL FOR MURDER IN THE MIXED COURT

Three Chinese, including the widow of the deceased man, appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday before Assessor Mead and Magistrate Loh charged with the murder of Wong Dzung-shing, found stabbed to death in an alleyway outside 11 Tiendong Road on the morning of January 23.

Those charged are Kyong Kyiu-da and Kyong Ah-nyi, brothers, and Wong Kwen-sz. Mr. Eardley Maitland appeared to prosecute and Mr. R. C. Faithfull appeared for the defense, at the request of the Court authorities.

Outlining the case, Mr. Maitland stated that it would be shown that the female accused and Kyong Ah-nyi were employed at a Japanese home at 11 Tiendong Road, the former as amah and the latter as a private ricsha coolie. Kyong Nyui-da was a brother of the other male accused. It would be shown that Kyong Ah-nyi had had illicit relations with the woman and that the deceased had discovered this fact. Subsequent to the discovery, counsel continued, the murdered man had quarreled with Kyong Ah-nyi and the latter had brought his brother to the Tiendong Road address and, when Wong called there on the night of January 22, had attacked and killed him, using a pair of swords which were found, covered with blood, by the police after the tragedy.

Mr. Maitland stated that both of the male accused, in statements given to the police, had admitted taking the body out into the alleyway and covering it with a blanket. In addition to this, the police found bloodstains on the door of 11 Tiendong Road and bloodstains were found on the clothing of the second accused—Kyong Ah-nyi. The first accused, Kyong Kyui-da, who is believed to have been summoned by his brother, when arrested was wearing a hat identified as belonging to the murdered man.

Some evidence was adduced for the prosecution and the hearing was then adjourned until today.

One Thousand To Attend B.W.A. Tea Dance Today

Over 1,000 reservations have been made for the British Women's Association tea dance at the New Carlton on Bubbling Well this afternoon and Manager Ellis of the Carlton announced last night that both Carlton jazz bands would play.

To accommodate the crowd—believed to be the largest that ever attended a tea dance in Shanghai—tables will be placed in the dining room, the ball room, the lobby and the balcony and dancing will go on everywhere.

Tomorrow night the Carlton will again be a busy place as in addition to the usual crowd the Shriners are giving a dinner dance in the dining room for which 150 reservations have been made.

26 Bandits Shot Publicly At Hofei

(China Press Correspondence)

Hofei, Anhwei.—A few days ago thirty captured bandits were brought into the city by soldiers stationed through the country and in charge of the local general. These bandits had not been captured in one group but at various times and in different places. They were given more or less of a trial before the local magistrate and four of them were set free, while the other twenty-six were shot in the presence of a large crowd of people in the yamen yard.

Rumors persist that bandits are within twenty or thirty li of the city, but local business is not particularly disturbed. Ordinarily there are three 'ing' (an 'ing' being a company of five hundred men) of soldiers kept in the city but since the new military governor of Anhwei has taken charge of affairs, there is only one 'ing' not a full company at that; perhaps some three hundred men. But they seem to be a good type of soldier, well commanded.

The soldiers, beside scouting around outside the city in search of bandits, are on constant look-out for spies and bandits within the city. Several have been caught disguished as candy pedlars. One day several wheelbarrow loads of grass brought into the city by country fellows were searched and rifles found hid in the grass. Not much time is wasted in trying such men. The magistrate seems to follow the Chinese proverb "Killing one puts fear into the hearts of a hundred."

Dyer Is Here To Ascertain Facts

Yangtse. Szechuen in the west reported in turmoil and armed camps dominating all parts of North China. In Peking I have met individually brilliant men and idealists but, possibly due to military interference, no real evidence of broad constructive endeavor to achieve in Government affairs a unity of purpose to bind China together as a Nation.

In China's relations to American business I find a lack of the spirit of reciprocity to respond to the goodwill which America extends to China.

On the Yangtse steamers under the American flag have been repeatedly fired on by Chinese troops and hampered in their business operations because of Chinese official and military obstruction.

REFERS TO BANDITS

In many parts of China the lives of foreigners are endangered by uncontrolled soldiery and those in the guise of brigands, culminating in the recent deplorable incident at Kalgan where Chinese soldiers under Chinese officers murdered an American citizen.

I find China insolvent, due largely to the squandering of Government funds in military adventures and the maintenance of demoralising military forces. There appears to be a complete disregard for the obligations of China to American merchants and Bankers.

I find in Peking numerous representatives of American Commercial and Financial interests, maintained here merely for the purpose of endeavoring to collect debts owed in many cases for years by the Chinese Government.

I find on examination of some of the contracts that they were awarded by the Chinese Government as a result of public tenders specifying final payment within a definite time after completion, delivery, and acceptance of goods. Such are examples of the obligations the Chinese Government has failed to meet.

Aside from unpaid bills for materials, China has borrowed money from important and influential American banking interests. Some of these loans are in default both as to principal and interest—and have been in default for some time. Americans cannot understand what China is thinking of to permit those defaults to continue unremedied.

On the question of extraterritoriality I have not observed any convincing evidence of the existence of a judicial system which would warrant me in supporting in Washington any movement to abolish extraterritoriality thereby entrusting the lives and interests of Americans in China to Chinese administration of justice.

In frankly stating my impression of China as I see conditions today, I can assure you that China has the real sympathy and friendship of the American people. Without thought of infringement of China's sovereign rights she can obtain, against adequate pledges, financial assistance to pay off existing obligations and take in hand needed reforms to carry on her industrial development.

To accomplish this China must be united by a Government which will command and hold authority as representative of the will and interests of the people of this great country.

I wish again to emphasise my goodwill and friendship for China, and that it is my purpose in Washington to do everything in my power to further the attainment of support to China so that the trade relations between our countries may be developed to the greatest possible extent.

Conclude Hearing Of Tobacco Case In U. S. Court

The hearing of the case in which the Universal Leaf Tobacco, Inc. claims G.$45,000 minus Tls. 12,000 against the Parber Steamship Lines for alleged damaged cargo was concluded before Judge Charles S. Lobingier in the United States Court for China yesterday afternoon.

Mr. F. J. Schuhl appeared for the tobacco concern and Mr. J. B. Davies for the defense. Each was given 15 days time in which to file a brief at the conclusion of the testimony so that it will be at least one month before Judge Lobingier gives a decision in the case.

At yesterday's hearing testimony was given by Mr. C. Reeves, cargo surveyor of Eisler, Reeves and Murphy, Captain Eisler, and the Chinese assistant managers for Nanyang Brothers Tobacco Company who handled the tobacco.

It is alleged in the suit that 71 hogsheads of tobacco consigned to Nanyang Brothers was damaged while being shipped here on the s.s. William Henry Webb.

Friday's Game, 5:30, at Rowing Club, Bearcats vs. Stripes.

BY TOMMY GRAFTON

Edmunds' fast American School aggregation strengthened their hold on second place in the Foreign League, when they defeated the Public School five last night in a 36 to 12 game on the Y.M.C.A. floor. It marks the seventh straight win for the American schoolboys, and puts the S.A.S. team one full game ahead of Kenny Irle's Bearcats.

The first half was featured by good team play but very poor shooting on both sides. Levis scored for the losers within ten seconds after the game opened, and Roy Squires soon equalised by dropping in two from the foul line. In the last of the period Dud Squires and Shipley broke away from the S.P.S. guards and caged phenomenal overhand shots. The half-time score was 16 to 4.

The second half clearly proved the ascendancy of the American five, the Public boys lacking concerted team play, and the four goals they tallied were due to individual efforts. Johansson netted three during the half, and Jack Levis brought the total to 12 with a good shot.

Roy Squires came back in a spectacular manner late in the second half, scoring four goals in rapid succession, and placing the S.P.S. hopelessly in the rear. Dud Squires and Shipley played well at forward, scoring four baskets apiece. Levis and Johansson were the leading players for the ...rs.

The summary follows:

TSINGHWA PLAYS CHINESE RECS THIS AFTERNOON

The Tsinghwa football team from Peking is booked to play the Chinese Recreation Club this afternoon on the latter's ground at West Gate. The game is to start at 2:30, and Mr. Allen, captain of the British Navy team, has been invited to officiate.

The game should be a hummer and will draw a large crowd, as the teams are evenly matched. The Chinese Recs have achieved a remarkable record in the number of games won this season and are in the pink of condition to meet the visitors from North. A small admission fee will be charged at the gate in order to defray a part of Tsinghwa team's travelling expenses.

The Tsinghwa team lost to Nanyang Saturday, 2 to 0, and won from Fuhtan 3 to 2 on Monday.

They will leave for Peking tomorrow.

CHAMPION FENDS OFF JERSEY RIVAL IN FINAL ROUNDS

Mickey Walker of Elizabeth, N. J., boxing for the first time since winning the welterweight championship from Jack Britton, outpointed Phil Krug of Harrison, N. J., in a twelve round contest in the old First Regiment Armony, New York, on January 3.

The contest was a disappointing one with neither the champion nor his opponent inflicting any great damage upon the other.

The Harrison boxer started off well enough and had the title holder backing away for the first few rounds. Walker, however, would step in now and then and shoot a hard right hand to the head, which would slow up Krug considerably.

For the first six rounds Krug was the aggressor and did the greater part of the leading and also landed the greater number of punches. The champion all this time appeared to be content with taking the punches Krug was delivering with the idea in mind of waiting for the chance to get over a knockout blow. The opportunity, however, did not present itself, for Krug was very cautious and took no unnecessary chances.

The champion woke up about the seventh round and from this point until the end had Krug on the run. It was the points rolled up during this stage of the contest by Walker that offset Krug's early lead. Krug appeared tired at the end and no doubt welcomed the sound of the bell.

A crowd of 5,000 persons witnessed the contest and were not overjoyed with the affair. Krug weighed 154 pounds while Walker tipped the beam at 148 pounds.

Being President Cuts Into Harding's Golf

According to well-founded rumors floating about Washington President Harding will be a first-class golfer when he leaves the White House. The Chief Executive, who is a golf enthusiast, has not found the time of late, due to pressure of business, to get out on the links.

However, for his daily recreation the President, it is said, has taken to driving balls into a net and to practicing daily on his private court in the rear of the White House. Practice makes perfect, and it so happens that the President has found that his game has improved considerably.

St. John's Basketballers Take Chinese Championship; Defeat Amateurs, 55-26

The ever-victorious St. John's quintet again copped handily in the Chinese League series last evening. They trimmed the Amateurs by a score of 55 to 26 in the "Y" gym before a big crowd. The Saints have now cinched the Chinese League championship title.

The game was featured with fast passing and spectacular shooting. Oo and Yui of the winning team ran wild from the very start and piled up the score for their team with great ease and rapidity. The interval saw the score 33 to 10.

Zee, the Amateurs center, played a great game, netting six baskets and covering the floor in great form. Jacob Yang also played well at forward, leaving his position at guard to R. B. Zao who put up some very close guarding work.

The poor showing of the Amateurs was due to the non-appearance of Tyau and J. Wong, two of their regulars. They would put up a better game had these players shown up.

The summaries:

St. John's 55		Amateurs 26

C. T. Zung	c	T. T. Zee

Goals from fouls: Yui 5. Goals from floor: Oo 7, Yui 6, Zung 2, Mo 4, Li 5, Zee 6, Woo 3, Yang 4. Referee: Ling.

The All-Whites trimmed the Cantonese Baptist Church team by 24 to 17 in the second game last evening on the "Y" floor. The score at interval was 12 to 7, with the All-Whites leading. The game was close throughout.

The winners showed better combination work. S. M. Pan and C. G. Hoh were their outstanding players. Euyang at center and Harry Liang at guarding played well for the losers.

Chefoo-Weihsien Motor Road Sure To Boom Port

(China Press Correspondence)

Chefoo, Jan. 26.—With the handing over of Tsingtau the boycott of Japanese goods by the local Chinese came to an end. It is impossible not to say that in Chefoo the boycott was a most effective weapon. Japanese business and Japanese trade suffered in consequence of the boycott which was instituted and engineered by the Chinese students, when it became known that Tsingtau was not to be handed back to the Chinese.

It is too early yet to say whether there will be a revival of Japanese trade and business in Chefoo now that the boycott has been lifted. Many of the Chinese are still determined not to purchase articles imported from Japan, but it remains to be seen whether they will persist in this attitude.

Living is all the time tending to become dearer and there is a hope that the dropping of the boycott will enable the poorer classes to buy things they have been compelled to do without because of the boycott. For a long time now Japanese coal could not be bought in Chefoo: but residents are anticipating that they will now be able to procure quantities of the commodity. Coal in Chefoo is still much dearer than it was a few years ago.

The Chefoo-Weihsien Motor Road is no longer something of the future. The construction has been completed and already the first cars are running. It is stated that one of them met with an accident a few days ago, the unfortunate occupants of the car being deposited into the roadway. Fortunately no one was injured. In consequence of the completion of the much needed motor road, it is anticipated that there will be a revival of local and industry. The hinterlands of Chefoo are a veritable hive of industry: and, now that there is every prospect of their being fully developed, this port should become one of the most prosperous in China. Chefoo has waited a long while to come into its own, but it looks very much now as though it is to become the busy center of trade and industry that it should have been many years ago.

According to the Chinese Press the Governor of the Province has decided to erect a number of radio stations throughout Shantung for the excellent purpose of policing it. The plans have been approved, it is stated, by the War Department at Peking, and four outfits have already been despatched to Tsinanfu, for erection in various parts of the Province. Reports are to hand that tufei have appeared on the outskirts of Shi Hwei Yao and residents are glad to know that the Commissioner of Defence, Mr. Chang, has stationed soldiers in that vicinity as a protection against them. Chefoo does not want its peace disturbed by unwelcome visits from these bands of marauders.

Russian residents are greatly excited over the arrest and prison sentence that has been given to Captain H. Grosberg of the Russian ship "Kishinew." According to the "Chefoo Daily News" on a return trip from Vladivostok a quantity of opium was found on the ship, some of it being concealed in the captain's cabin. At the time of the discovery of the opium no arrests were made but the compradore is stated to have fled. The ship went to Dairen, and on its return a few days later was boarded by Chinese officials who arrested the captain and his steward. A trial was held, described by the "Chefoo Daily News" as "Impromptu" at which the Captain and his steward were both found guilty. The skipper was sentenced to two years imprisonment and subjected to a fine of $500.00 and the steward to a sentence of a year and a half. It is reported that the steward has acknowledged his guilt and that he asserts he alone was responsible for the placing of the opium in the captain's cabin. Friends of the Captain who have visited him say that he is lodged like any other Chinese prisoner without even the barest necessities which prisoners get in foreign jails. Efforts are being made to have the whole matter inquired into.

The cold weather of the last few days probably accounts for the appearance of wolves, one of our residents having had two of his goats bitten to death by these creatures. He would probably have lost the goats had it not been for his going out to see what all the commotion was about, when the prowling beasts ran off.

Hongkong Go'fers Make Ready For Shanghai's Team

Some good cards were returned in the Interport trial match at Fanling on Saturday afternoon, says the "S. C. M. Post" of January 23. A good strong wind caused a good deal of trouble but the play was of much higher standard than the previous week. Mr. J. B. Ross, Mr. R. M. Smith, Mr. B. D. Crawford Morgan and Capt. Bloxham all did well.

The results were as under:

J. B. Ross (3 and 6) beat A. K. Mackenzie.

R. M. Smith (1 up) beat J. F. Warner.

B. D. Crawford Morgan (3 and 2) beat Lieut. Bacon.

Capt. Bloxham (1 up) beat E. J. R. Mitchell.

Capt. Cumming (2 and 1) beat H. O. Ireland.

Wade Leads "Rest" Team On Saturday

F. Marshall will referee. Mr. T. S. D. Wade will be Captain of the Rest of Shanghai team. The captain for the Interport team will be decided on later.

Owing to the schedule of Second League matches for the season being already behind, the Second League matches which were postponed from January 1 (owing to the first Interport Trial match) will be played on Saturday next. The program is as follows:

Customs vs. Pub. School 2nd, Hongkew.

Hanbury School vs. St. Xavier's 2nd, Hongkew.

Club Lusitano vs. Rangers, S. F. C. ground.

Police 2nd vs. H. M. Navy, Widow's Monument.

S. R. C. 2nd vs. S. F. C. 2nd, S. R. C. ground.

Stowaway, Led By Vision, Says He's Disillusioned

"Vision, or no vision, I wouldn't stow away again on board any ship bound for the Holy or any other land!"

Such was the declaration of Ira C. Sparks, religious fanatic, who went aboard the steamer Taiyo Maru at San Francisco on her last trip and was discovered five days out of port. At least, that's what officers of the steamer said when the ship arrived here.

Sparks, according to his tale to the ship's officials, came to San Francisco from the Western lumber camps and had a vision. In the vision he was directed "in words of fire" to go to the Holy Land take up the mission of Moses. Aided by friends he secured a sizeable box, installed several large cans of water and a number of loaves of bread and had himself nailed up inside it. When the box was taken to the pier at San Francisco and was dumped off the motor truck its occupant got a severe shaking up. Five days down in the hold of the steamer completed the cure: and when the Taiyo reached Honolulu Sparks figured that the "call" had got misdirected and was eager to go aboard the same steamship line's vessel Tenyo Maru and return to 'Frisco.

"No more calls for me," said he.

Rainfall In Interior Of China Helps, But More Is Needed To Save Crops

The rainfall and snow that have fallen in the interior have averted what promised to be a serious famine in China. For three months the agriculturist has been praying for rain. The wheat and rapeseeds that had been sown were retarded from growing, and in many parts of Central China the seeds did not sprout, while in other districts the spouts began to wither away.

The condition of things in the agricultural districts is still bad, and more rainfall is required before an optimistic note could be sounded.

Almost all parts of China, especially the Central and Northern parts, forecast very poor crops of those products that are now growing. The draught served to make the Chinese produce speculator bullish, and since the glad announcement that rain has fallen in districts that needed same very urgently to save the growing crops, a weaker tendency has been noticed, especially in the rice, wheat and flour markets, the Chinese taking a more hopeful view of things.

Wheat is grown is all parts of Central China and in parts of Northern China, while rapeseed is grown in Honan, Anhwei, Kiangsu, Kiangsu and Chekiang. Should the rainfall be scanty for the next four weeks the production of wheat and rapeseeds will be diminished to a very appreciable extent. Rapeseeds are sown in December and wheat in October.

It is too early to state what definite loss this delay in the rainfall has caused to the growing crops, but if the fall is copious in February the loss should be minimised to a great extent.

FLOUR WEAK

The flour market was weak last week, the Chinese not being keen on placing any orders for American flour for forward shipment beyond March. The week's transactions consisted of some 5,000 to 6,000 tons of American flour. About 8,000 tons of flour and wheat arrived during the past ten days from the United States. Flour prices on the local Exchange are weak, Chinese flour being quoted at Tls. 2.16 per sack, for spot delivery. The Chinese are quoting for American flour Tls. 2.08 per sack, while sellers in the United States are quoting G.$1.50 per ton, equivalent to Tls. 2.13. American prices are up three to four cents gold.

Pacific wheat is rated at G.$47 per ton, equal to Tls. 4.55 per picul, but buyer's ideas are not above Tls. 4.40 per picul. No business has been done in American wheat since the last report.

Arrivals of Chinese wheat have now completely ceased. Stocks of flour in Shanghai are estimated at about 150,000 sacks of Chinese and 200,000 sacks of American. Three Shanghai mills are working spasmodically, but their output is very scanty.

Manchurian imports of wheat flour were very heavy last year, but available figures for the whole year are not at hand. That country has drawn entirely on the United States for supplies, the imports during the first six months of last year being 337,185 barrels against 1,178 barrels for the same period the previous year. This was due to the meagre crop in that country.

RICE BUYING HALTED

Following the trend in the flour market the Shanghai rice market has been weak, the price of Chinese rice having fallen some ten to twenty cents per one-and-a-half piculs.

There have been no arrivals of rice from the Honan district. The stocks there are reduced and prices are higher than those prevailing on the Shanghai market. The rate here has declined from $9.45 to $9.25 per one-and-a-half piculs.

The Chekiang merchants are not as active as before, and very little fresh business is to be recorded. It is believed that the apparent tightness of the money market at the approach of the Chinese New Year may have halted buying.

DIRECT IMPORTS

There has been no importation of rice from Japan since the last ten days, but some 3,000 to 5,000 tons of Saigon rice have been contracted for by Chekiang merchants at about Tls. 4.90 per picul direct with Saigon. The market in Saigon is much steadier owing to the demand from Europe, Manila, America and also China. It is expected that prices in the Saigon market will advance much in the near future.

Stocks of the cereal in Shanghai are not heavy, those of Honan rice being estimated at 20,000 and Saigon and Bangkok rice at about the same quantity.

Keen buying is likely to be witnessed in the Shanghai rice market soon after the Chinese New Year. There have been no imports recently of Saigon or Rangoon rice, but next month a large quantity of these will be consigned to this port.

HONGKONG KEEN BUYER

The shipment of Bangkok rice to Hongkong has been very active lately, so it would appear that the chances of securing supplies from Japan at the previous cheap rates are extremely remote. The current steamer freight rate from Bangkok to Hongkong is 38 cents per picul, for inside the Hongkong harbour, and 28 cents outside. These rates are extremely profitable to the Japanese tramp boats, and a number of these are being chartered by Chinese to transport rice from Siam to Hongkong for supplying the needs not only of that Colony but also of places in the interior of South China and a number of southern outports.

CHARTERING FULL SWING

An indication of the feverish haste with which supplies are being bought by Hongkong is indicated in the fact that in November last only three tramp vessels were engaged in the transportation in addition to regular China Navigation and other line vessels. Now there are twelve Japanese vessels chartered out by Chinese, engaged chiefly in delivering rice to Hongkong. These large consignments are still continuing and will not cease until March. Much more space will be needed, and it is quite likely that the chartering will be in full swing till May.

TWO GREAT ATTRACTIONS
Universal Picture Corporation Presents "THE LEATHER PUSHERS" with Reginald DENNY
The First of the Six Remarkable Two-Reel Rounds Based on H. C. Witwer's Ring Stories in "Collier's Weekly"

"The Leather Pushers"
reveal the Trials of a Gentleman pugilist fighting his way from the "Bimbo" ranks to the heavy-weight championship of the world, and, Boy, he does fight taking his share of punishment from such well-known "pugs," as Sam McVey, Bob Armstrong and Frank Burns. Reginald Denny plays the role of the "comer," Kane Holiday, alias "Kid" Roberts.

H. C. Witwer author of "The Leather Pushers"
Said in the Los Angeles Examiner
"Nobody ever accused a real box-fighter of being able to double for Mary Pickford, but for once a handsome blonde has approached that profitable stage. His name is Reginald Denny and he's in the best picture I've ever seen. 'The Leather Pushers,' which is at the Apollo. It's the best picture I've ever seen because I wrote the story and seldom go to pictures. Generally, when it comes to the animated snap-shots, I'm as green as 350 Irish flags, but it doesn't take any great light from above to discern the merit of this guy Denny. Universal sure filmed some real stories in 'The Leather Pushers,' repetition of the title being the foxy pass of this thing. I would urge all to see the picture, the urge being prompted with a watery eye the royalty to pennies."

SIX SUPER-FEATURES of TWO REELS EACH

Shriners Of Islam Are Greeted By Radiophone

Gillin, his equally famous brother Guy and Mischa Wienawski, the violinist, were in excellent form last night for those with radio receiving sets. They made it Maxim night and the program resulted in requests for a repeat. Mr. Wienawski played "Humoresque," while all the other members of the orchestra except Mr. Sanborn were heard in solo numbers, all of which were delightful.

Several visitors were allowed to hear the program last night in the suite of offices occupied by the Radio Corporation and one of the most enthusiastic among those present was George Fowler, Jr., of the Cathedral School for Boys, who heard his father talking to the President Wilson.

FEATURES TONIGHT

Three distinctive features will be on the program to be broadcasted tonight. Mr. Roy Sharp, who made such a decided hit with his "Bow Wow Blues" when he sang to the radio fans several nights ago, will repeat with "Red Headed Mama Blues" and an encore—depending on the applause.

Mr. Eddie Harmon, to whom tickling the ivories comes as naturally as falling off a log, will play "Coaxing The Piano," a piano solo that helped make the piano famous as a musical instrument. Mr. Harmon, as those who have heard him already know, excels his leadership of the Parisien orchestra only by his piano playing.

Violin solos are broadcasted with especial clarity under existing conditions and in Mr. Alexander the broadcasting program has an extremely able violinist who has already proven he can delight the Shanghai radio fans. For tonight's program he will play two solos, "The Swan" and "Serenade."

Larry's Chin Chin, the pagoda of piffle, is well enough known to all readers of THE CHINA PRESS already. The novelty of tonight's Chin Chin will be that it will be recited or read or talked, whichever you wish, by 'Larry' himself.

RADIO CIRCLE

Mr. A. Bruce Puddicombe, President of the Shanghai International Radio Circle wrote THE CHINA PRESS yesterday as follows:

"In reply to the verbal request via radiophone from XRO last night, the various members of the Shanghai International Radio Circle beg to report that they received your concert at their individual stations. On the whole the reception was clear and distinct. We quite understand that there are several difficulties to be overcome during the installation of a new station, but we consider that a different placing of the artistes when playing full orchestra might have made an improvement, we also think that some speakers are prone to run their syllables together and sound as if they were too near to the transmitter..

"We might add, that the Rev. Symons' sermon on Sunday night was exceptionally clear. The modulation of his voice was perfect and no jarring sounds were heard. "Last night's Violin Solo, 'Souvenir,' and the trio 'Star of Love' were excellent.

Yours truly,
A. Bruce Puddicombe.
President."

The Radio Circle is composed of a number of amateurs in Shanghai who are interested in radio development in Shanghai and who listen in on THE CHINA PRESS-Radio Corporation of China concerts every night. The other officers of the circle are vice-president, Mr. S. Webb, and secretary-treasurer, Mr. A. C. Davis.

Mons. Macari of the French wireless station wrote THE CHINA PRESS as follows:

"The persons present yesterday evening (January 29) in the room of the French wireless station and myself thank you very much for your radio concert. It was received very clearly and strongly and heard distinctly all over the room. Please present my compliments to Mr. Osborn."

Mr. O. Boisseree of the Eastern Extension Telegraph Company, another radio fan, has written THE CHINA PRESS that he has had excellent success with his receiving set.

"I would like to let you know that in any case the radio broadcasting has been a complete success," Mr. Boisseree wrote. "My set, though small, is very powerful and I have only one wire up for an aerial. If I were to increase my aerial I would get the concerts louder, of course."

An interesting experiment was carried out at the conclusion of the concert on Monday evening when Prof. C. H. Robertson of the Y.M.C.A., and Dr. John Y. Lee of the 'Y' conversed by radio from THE CHINA PRESS broadcasting station on the roof of the Dollar building at 3 Canton Road to 50 Museum Road, where the 'Y' has a broadcasting set in its laboratories. Prof. Robertson called Dr. Lee at the conclusion of the concert and asked how he had received the entertainment.

"Call me back and tell me how things went," Prof. Robertson said.

Just a second—and then Dr. Lee's voice came out of the void.

"Everything came through very nicely," Dr. Lee said.

Prof. Robertson and Dr. Lee talked back and forth through space for several seconds, giving a practical demonstration of what uses wireless telephony can be put to in Shanghai. There wasn't a chance that you would get the wrong number.

Get More Munitions From Russians He e

The following articles were seized without protest by the Russians: one bomb, 39 rounds of pistol ammunition, one rifle, and 27 signal rockets.

League Council Meets In Paris

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Jan. 29.—The Council of the League of Nations met this morning at the Petit Luxembourg, under the presidency of M. Viviani, who welcomed the new representatives on the Council, M. Blanco (Uruguay) and M. Branting (Sweden).

The Council invited the members of the League to communicate to the Secretariat before June 1, 1923, all observations with regard to the amendment of Article Ten of the Pact (intervention in case of aggression), presented by the Canadian delegation at the Assembly of September last.

Among the questions on the agenda of the Council are the execution of the program for the relief of Austrian finance, the possibility of maintaining in Albania the commission of control until the appointment of the financial counsellers requested by Albania, the economic situation of Russia, the reduction of armaments, various problems of minorities in the Baltic States, the nomination of the President and members of the Sarre Commission and the nomination of the High Commissioner at Dantzig.

Tomorrow will be heard a statement by Earl Balfour on the questions put to the League by the British Government on the subject of Mosul.

At the close of today's sitting M. Poincare gave a luncheon in honor of the delegates.

Baldwin Seems To Have Stirred U. S. Ire On Debt Issue

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 29.—With the exception of the Daily Mail which roundly declares that the American terms are impossible, the newspapers generally favor accepting forthwith the American offer to fund the British debt for 10 years at 3 percent as a substantial concession if better terms cannot be secured and trusting time for possible revision later on.

It is stated that the Cabinet is divided on the question. Some of Mr. Stanley Baldwin's colleagues would prefer to stand out for the British offer of 2-½ per cent interest plus a 0-½ percent sinking fund.

The New York newspapers criticise Mr. Baldwin's reference to the rural-mindedness of Congress and express the opinion that it may have made debt agreement most improbable before the end of the present session of Congress.

Tutung Declines To Apologise To U. S. In Coltman Case

(Asiatic News Agency)
Peking, Jan. 28.—With reference to the Coltman case, the most difficult condition lies in the demand of the American Legation for the official apology of General Chang Hsi-yuan, Tutung of Chahar, to the American Consul at Kalgan who accompanied the late Mr. Coltman to the Chinese tax office.

Semi-official information from Kalgan indicates that General Chang declines to offer the apology on the ground that the orders for the prohibition of the export of silver of more than one hundred dollars to Mongolia were enacted by former Tutung Tien Chung-yu now Tuchun of Shantung, and that he was absent in Paoting when the incident occurred.

Furthermore, it was not the custom for a foreign Consul to escort his nationals to run the gauntlet of Chinese tax offices threateningly demanding passage without official examination.

SOCIALISTS PARADE
(French Wireless through Reuter)
Paris, Jan. 29.—Saturday's demonstrations of the Social Democratic Party in Vienna were the greatest ever seen in the capital. Everything passed off without serious incident, the Viennese police remaining insensible to the provocations of the Communist groups.

A Record Of Shanghai's Trade

BY DAVID ARAKIE
(Financial Editor)

There has been very little of importance in the silk market here since our last report. The United States has been taking no interest in price movements, and the only purchases of the past week were made by Lyons.

From France there came some good demand for 13-15 of every filature, and prices of these have gone up as a result of the inquiries. Stocks are small in Shanghai and in the country.

Tussah is in demand from Europe, and some trade has to be reported. The price is still considered too high by many buyers.

The fluctuations in Exchange during the week made business with France extremely difficult, and the transactions were, therefore, small. Steadily, silk trading here is dwindling, as we are beginning to feel the exhaustion of stock.

JAPANESE SILK

The Japanese market is steady, the fluctuations being within narrow limits. American buyers in Yokohama are not anxious to place large orders without concessions. Japanese commission men are ready to part with stocks, but in view of the steadily decreasing arrival from filatures they are unwilling to accept buyers' demands. Consequently, very little business is transpiring on the Yokohama Silk Exchange. The Japanese waste silk market is very bright, but at present buyers for Europe are finding the franc exchange adverse and they prefer to wait rather than continue negotiations over prices.

The favorable weather and the good condition of the export silk trade have induced Japanese sericulturists to take better care of worms. The average price for best grade cocoons this season was yen 10.95 against yen 7.53 for the preceding season.

WIRE NAILS ACTIVE

Quite a fair volume of business was done last week in iron and steel goods, but on the whole the market was not as active as the previous week.

Buyers during the past ten days have concentrated more on wire nails than any other product, and the market in these has been extremely active. Outside of wire nails there was nothing doing, for wire nails occupied the attention of buyers to the exclusion of everything else.

There has been a lack of inquiries from outports, and whatever business that was done during the past three weeks was principally on account of Shanghai merchants.

STOCK SHRINKAGE

There would seem to be a great shrinkage of stocks of wire nails in the Shanghai market, for the recent outburst of purchasing can be put down to only this. There is the additional fact that German and Belgian manufacturers are unable to quote except for long deferred delivery on account of the shortage of coal in Germany. This has caused the Chinese buyer to rush in and make his purchases in the United States and Great Britain, where prices are steady to firm, British prices advancing steadily.

LATENT FEAR

The Chinese metal merchant is beginning to realise that the tendency is upward for steel products. The Japanese firms in Shanghai have been active in buying Hongkong tin. Arrivals are fair in certain lines, but there is still that latent fear on the part of Chinese merchants to replenish stocks. Possibly conditions will improve after the Chinese New Year.

JAPANESE PRICES

Prices in Japan have recovered from their weakening condition of previous weeks, and many metals are now advancing in that country. The stock of metals is smaller there, especially in zinc and lead, and it is interesting to mention that prices in Japan for these are lower than in the United States. Japanese importers are awaiting a raise in prices in Japan to place fresh orders abroad. Until this occurs, it is mentioned, merchants in Japan will not replenish. Tinplates have been going up rapidly as well owing to the very meagre stocks on hand. No shipments are expected before April, so it would seem the Japanese holders of tinplates have a good opportunity of creating a market for their holdings.

BETHLEHEM MERGER

The exclusive CHINA PRESS despatch from Washington to the effect that the Federal Trade Commission has issued a ruling declaring the merger of the Bethlehem, Lackawana, and Midvale steel companies an unlawful action in restraint of trade was read with great interest by steel merchants in Shanghai.

It might be added by way of supplement to that bit of news that the plan for merging the Midvale and Lackawana steel companies with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, when it was announced, was received by a chorus of protest, and negotiations were prevented by the Attorney-General of the United States on the ground that the proposed combine violated the Sherman Act. It was on Nov. 25 that the President of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation announced the purchase of the Midvale Steel Company, thus giving the Corporation an ingot capacity of 7,600,000 tons. The price was over 97½ million gold dollars payable in Bethlehem common stock.

Steel is active in New York with an upward tendency, but the tin market seems to be in an unsettled state owing to the European political situation. Prices, on the whole, on the American market appear to be well maintained.

British manufacturers are shipping larger quantities of tinplates to the Far East, and the demand for this product is broadening. Almost all products on the London Metals Exchange are steady, disclosing a sound position, in spite of the unsettled political outlook.

ENGLISH PRICES

English prices for some of the main products are: Quicksilver £11 per bottle, tinned plates 21/- per box, zinc sheets down to £43.10 per ton, aluminium £105 per ton, galvanised corrugated sheets £18.15 per ton, standard copper 64¾ for spot and 65 3-8 future, electrolytic copper 71½ spot and 71¾ future, tin 184¼ spot and 185¾ future, lead 27 5-8 spot and 27 3-8 future spelter 35 3-8 spot and 33½ future.

BRITISH WORKS ACTIVE

A Reuter's commercial cable states that the Continental and American iron and steel works are not in a position to actively compete with British works, and that as a result the British manufacturers are receiving orders from all parts of the world at the present moment. The cable also states that export prices in London have advanced to the level of home prices. This bears out our statement that owing to the withdrawal of the Germans from the Chinese metals market the Shanghai buyers have been placing orders with British and American manufacturers.

AMERICAN MARKET

Latest New York prices for some of the principal lines are: Tinplates G.$4.75 per case, galvanised sheets G.$4.30 per cwt, tin G.$40 per cwt., steel bars and steel shapes G.$2.05 per cwt., pig iron G.$29.50 per ton, aluminium G.$23.25 per cwt., zinc G.$6.80 and lead G.$8.12 against G.$7.62 per cwt.

You Will Do a Better Day's Work!

—and you will feel fitter and fresher all day—if you begin the day with Sanatogen.

In these days of keen competition, the man who "wins through" is the man who does a better day's work than his competitors.

When you come to analyse it, the quantity and quality of the work you do depends, to a large extent, on the amount of nerve-energy you possess. It is nerve-energy that enables you to make the most of your brains, and supplies the "driving power" essential to success.

Now, Sanatogen definitely increases nerve-energy—does not merely stimulate or excite, but increases it to a remarkable degree. The result is that when you take Sanatogen you do more and better work than you have been accustomed to do. Nor is this a temporary effect; it continues day by day, week by week.

Dr. Claude L. Wheeler says—

"The user of Sanatogen is richly rewarded in freedom from langour, a gain of strength and activity, alertness of mind, and an increased resisting-power to diseases"

Begin by Taking Sanatogen Regularly Every Morning with or After Breakfast

This will enable you to acquire that extra nerve-energy which spells success in every business and profession; which gives you a zest and a delight in your work; which makes you keen and concentrated, alert and self confident, and thus gives you the power to realise your ambitions.

Take the first step today, not tomorrow—now not presently. Sanatogen can be obtained of all Chemists and Dispensaries.

The Mosul Crisis

APPARENT failure of the Lausanne Conference has produced a new and alarming crisis in the Near East. Turkey, according to the Reuter message which we publish today, may not wait for the final word from the conference, but seeking to enforce the terms of the Turkish National Pact, from which she refuses to budge an inch, is planning to seize the Mosul Province of Mesopotamia, which the British now hold. Mustapha Kemal Pasha has hastened back to Angora in response to an urgent call from the Council of Commissars, Ismet Pasha is expected to issue a proclamation to the world explaining Turkey's position, and then quit the conference, while the British garrison in Mosul is being reinforced by army and air force units from Bagdad.

In order that we may understand how this new danger to the world has arisen it is necessary to go back to the Russo-Turkish Treaty of March, 1921, and the Turkish National Pact which was drafted by the National Party caucus at Sivas, Asia Minor, in September 1919. Article One of the latter reads as follows:

Article 1—Those territories of the Ottoman Empire populated by an Arab majority and being at the time of the armistice (Oct. 31, 1918) occupied by the enemy armies, shall be ruled according to the will of the local populations. [These territories are Mesopotamia, Syria, Palestine, Arabia and Egypt.]

Those parts of the empire situated on the armistice line inhabited by a Moslem majority, united by religious and cultural ties and animated by a similar desire for the establishment of their ethnical rights, form a complete whole with us which shall suffer under no pretext whatsoever any dissociation. [The territories here referred to are those of Cilicia, which was recovered by the Franco-Turkish agreement of October 20, 1921, and the Mosul province of Mesopotamia, which the British hold.]

And with reference to the Russo-Turkish Treaty, Article One of that instrument states that the frontiers of Turkey "are understood in this treaty to include all the territories enumerated in the Turkish National Pact."

Thus it becomes more than ever obvious that the Russians and Turks are in very close agreement. Russia, in fact, made many concessions and her influence in Turkey, with her historic policy and requirements in the way of a southern outlet, is now stronger than ever before.

Meantime events in the Ruhr Basin growing out of the French seizure become more menacing. The Russians, the Turks and the Germans are being forced into an alliance and the news of the next few days will be awaited with misgivings akin to those of July, 1914.

A Column Of Verse

THE MOON PATH

There's a glowing silver path across the water to the moon—
Stretching far beyond the combers that are breaking on the beach.
There is music past believing in the wavelet's lapping croon,
And our ecstasy, who listen, is beyond the realm of speech.

We can merely sit and wonder at the glory of it all—
Sit and rapturously dream upon the dune;
For our souls have gone a-gypsying, gone straying past recall.
On that path across the water to the moon.

There is darkness soft, diaphanous as silken laces are,
On each selvage of that path across the water to the moon,
And the further side of Nevermore is less remote by far
Than the bourne our souls go seeking on that glittering lagoon.

So we sit and doubly marvel at the splendor of it all!
Though our earthly selves lie prone upon the dune,
Yet our spirits go a-roving, go a-straying past recall,
On that path across the water to the moon.

ALL WE LEARN

As life I go the less I know;
I think it's so with you.
I thought, you know, to wiser grow;
I question, though, I do.
I thought the gray grew wiser, they
Had found the way to win;
And yet I see they pay, like me,
Repeatedly for sin.

And so I guess that, more or less,
We all possess our flaws;
But wisdom, though, we learn to know
As on we go, because
At least we find that humankind
Are foolish, blind and frail,
And, most of all, ourselves recall
As folks who fail and fail.

Yes, often so through life we go,
In sin I know we live;
But I and you learn, when we do,
The others to fogive.
If nothing more we learn of lore
Than kindness for the rest
Whatever truth age teaches youth
We've learned in sooth the best.

THE FALL OF THE RAINBOW

The minute that the snows are gone
And April skies are blue,
The Pixies gather in the dawn
With pots of colored dew,
And, leaping over stream and ridge,
In hurrying crowds they go,
To paint the flimsy rainbow bridge
That spans the world below.

All summer it is clearly seen
By pleased and wondering folk,
When rains have swept the Heavens clean
Of mist and dust and smoke—
A sweeping arch of brilliant dyes,
That shine out bright and warm,
Across the quiet evening skies
Beyond the fading storm.

And then, when autumn's here again,
Jack Frost, his ax in hand,
Comes creeping from his hidden den
Somewhere in Pixie land,
And, wearing now and then a smirk
And now and then a frown,
The little rascal sets to work
To chop the rainbow down!

And lo! its gorgeous colors fall
Upon the world like rain,
And tint the tree tops one and all
With red and golden stain.
The children see the autumn glow
When comes the morning light
And thrill with wonder, for they know
Jack Frost was out last night!

COMIN' ABOARD

"It's come at last," said the sailor man;
"I knowed it was bound to be
So soon as that petticut war began
For makin' o' women free.
No 'With your leave,' nor 'By your leave,'
But it's 'Comin' aboard!' says she.

"It's a woman skipper today, no less,
Comin' over the side.
She'll know enough o' the game, I guess,
To save her missin' the tide,
She may navigate, mebbe, as well as me,
But, it hurts a sailor's pride.

"Woman was made for the land, I say,
And man for a sailor's life.
In the good old days he could sail away
From a world o' trouble and strife.
There's too many tears been shed by them
As pities a sailor's wife.

"Many's the time I've packed my kit,
Seein' we couldn't agree,
To find a quiet place for a bit
Out on the rollin' sea.
But, sea or land, it's the same today,
And it's 'Comin' aboard!' says she."

Touchstone.

China In 1922

TSINGKIANGPU, KU.

The past year in this part of Kiangsu has been outwardly quiet but tense from changing conditions and the high cost of living. The year opened with almost famine conditions, high prices and a great shortage of foodstuffs and fuel. It closes with bumper crops, plenty of fuel, and still high prices: grain prices are higher than last spring, and those who live on salaries and the townsmen have a hard time to make ends meet. Wheat, a 60 lb. bushel sells for Mex. $2.58: Maize the same weight costs Mex. $2.35, and beans same weight Mex. $2.06. Fuel and vegetables have decreased in price but are still higher than usual. These facts are mentioned as they explain the high cost of foods and this explains much of the anxiety and restlessness among the people. The question is constantly asked here why are foodstuffs so dear now when the crops are so abundant. The only answer that is given is that grain is being exported in enormous quantities. Maize as well as wheat is being bought and shipped out by brokers as well as the mills.

Business is better than last year but buyers are skittish of laying in large stocks. This city is a large distributing center for foreign goods through all this end of the province. Rumors of robbers and looting are current and cause the merchants to buy in small quantities. The large flour mill owned and managed by Chinese merchants is doing well and runs day and night shifts. The city has installed electric lights that are being widely introduced into the larger shops and homes. The capital and machinery are Japanese. At first there was a good deal of opposition among the students, but this has died out. There is talk of better roads, and a company is being formed, it is said, to run trucks to a city fifty miles to the north. A road for motor cars along the Grand Canal bank to Saopeh is mooted.

Transport, most important for a growing commerce, is a live question to the local Chamber of Commerce. The Grand Canal has been much neglected since the Revolution, and under the Republic there has been less attention paid to this fine waterway than under the Manchus. There has been some dredging by antique machines and some repairing of banks. The Kiangsu Conservancy Board has done some work and is now building a new lock ten miles above this city under the direction of one of its engineers, Mr. E. W. Lane. It is a valuable piece of work as it protects a large district from floods as well as controls the supply of water to the salt canal to Haichow. It is to be hoped that an adequate scheme for conserving and improving this Grand Canal and its tributaries will soon be worked out. As it is large fleets of boats carry down wheat, beans, beancake, sesame, peanuts; a better regulated water supply will add amazingly to the prosperity of this section.

Education is valued here. There is a large high school carried on by the missionaries. There are also a normal school, two Junior High schools and in Whai An ten miles away there is a government High School. There is a good spirit among the pupils and the grade of work done is good. Girls school are increasing and many pupils are being enrolled. Still women's education is but beginning in this region, though highly esteemed.

Religious work goes on steadily and is encouraging. Here and there interest is shown in Christianity by members of the gentry and student class, but in the main it is the small landholders and workmen and their families who are turning to Christianity. Work in city and country schools in large towns twenty odd in number, visiting and teaching women and children in homes and in large centers goes on without hindrance and the interest is growing.

Last spring there was much suffering from lack of foodstuffs and in two small districts famine prevailed. The Chinese Foreign Famine Relief Committee of Shanghai appropriated fifty thousand dollars. This was distributed by a committee half Chinese and half foreigners members of the mission working here. Relief works were carried on, building roads and digging drainage ditches as well as help to those in extremis. This work has helped the people to help themselves. The Chinese members were most active and efficient and did fine work in caring for their people and in devising and carrying out good business methods. The writer has had experience in several famines and has never seen the local merchants and gentry do such thorough and constructive work for their fellow citizens. Especially did the local Chamber of Commerce show an active interest through its Chairman and Secretary.

One result, a very prompt one, of the increased prices is the increase of wages and larger demands from the trades and workmen. The workmen's guilds have raised prices and are agitating another increase. One of the head carpenters told me that the language of some of younger craftsmen amazed him by the daring and threatening attitude to employers and contractors. Even the farm laborers are forming associations and making a united and organised drive for higher wages, more holidays, and better food. This increasing self consciousness and organisation of labor is one of the curious and important phenomena of this country. It must be reckoned with.

Brigandage the bete noir of this north country is less than last year. The officials during the summer were active and scattered the robbers, forcing most of them to go to Shanghai for the winter activities. Still robbing is going on almost at will, especially in the outlying districts. Yet six days ago a rich family was robbed four miles from this city. Some sixty men were said to form the gang, a number wore soldiers' clothes. About $2,500 worth of furs, jewelry, and cash was carried off and two sons of the house who are held for $25,000 ransom. Nothing has been done and no traces found. And so it goes. These people live in constant dread and anxiety not knowing what night it will be their turn and if it is, there will be no redress.

The two great material needs of this country are the prevention of floods and the enforcement of law and order. The first includes the Huai River problem and the South Shantung overflow as well as local drainage and waterways. The later includes much of what China most needs. Given those two this people will go far in peace and prosperity and the pursuit of happiness and progress.

Are You Selfish With Your Time And Attention?

BY J. J. MUNDY

You find time to do the things you really want to do, but still you excuse yourself from doing many things which you ought to do under the plea that you have no time for them.

Even though you are tired and sleepy you can go to a theater or to a dance, but if you were asked to attend some meeting in which you were not interested you would feel so worn out immediately that you could not go.

This is the difference between wanting to do a thing and wanting not to do it.

It is easy to let go of yourself and think yourself into a state where it seems impossible for you to study or to perform some act of labor or benefit to another, which you know you should do but which you are not at all inclined to do.

It is easy enough to get a full head of steam and keep pushing ahead when you have a personal incentive. In other words, you are so selfish you will do what pleases you and you will not exert yourself to please others.

All the way it is true, isn't it, that you think more of your own happiness and pleasure than you do of any one else, not excepting the members of your own family.

The Virtues Of Typewriters

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest

We all use typewriting machines, and it is no longer "bad form" to write other than business letters with them. Authors "composing" on typewriters find that the machine steadies the course of thought, like an improved rudder or steering gear. I write much more deliberately and with greater care, composing whole sentences in advance, when I use my typewriter. If I write with the pen, thoughts glide more freely, wander more easily and are less exactly wrought out.

The typewriter is a self-reveal-er for its user. It picks out his defects of nervous action, slips of memory, strayings and blunderings of attention and misdirected, automatic movements. It is a mental mirror for you, by consulting which you may correct some of these faults and infelicities.

The application of the principle of the typewriter to typesetting for print brings out precisely similar facts. The prevailing proofsheet errors are not the same now as they used to be in the days of setting type by hand from boxes. It is interesting to read over a proof in printers' type of something that you have written on your machine and see how other of the same kind of mistakes that you yourself committed have been added by the manipulator of the printing machine.

He, too, has dropped and inverted letters, just as you have done, and for the same apparent reasons. The dropping of letters in the middle of words seems to be due principally to haste, resulting in too light a touch upon some of the letters so that the levers fall short of reaching the drum, and the carrier does not move. I believe that certain letters more often dropepd than others by certain persons.

A person who finds himself habitally dropped letters in this way when writing rapidly should study and practice uniformity of touch. The fault is one to be corrected, not only for the sake of better typewriting but because like a flaw in a piece of metal, it is likely to extend much farther than is apparent at a hasty glance. It gives you a hint as to where you need reannealing. You may be unconciously dropping other things besides letters.

The inversion of letters appears to be due to two principal causes. First the bad practice (of which professional typists are, I suppose, never guilty) of looking at the letters as you strike them instead of keeping your eyes fixed on the copy, or on the paper as the growing line of print develops, and watching that; and, second, misdirection of the fingers, which accidentally hit letters adjacent to the one intended to be hit.

The results of the first of these ways of inverting letters are sometimes very curious indeed, and they throw as interesting light upon the operations by which the motor centers of the brain are actuated. In a short word, like "and," one may find oneself beginning with the last or middle letter instead of the first, thus writing "dan" or "nad" instead of "and." Laughable combinations and inversions are occasionally made, as "cat" for "act," "owl" for "low," "fade" for "deaf," "dam" for "mad," or vice versa, "hash" for "sham," "tub" for "but," etc. These, and many others, are actual examples of such misplacements of letters in rapid typewriting.

The explanation seems to be that the mental vision recognises the literal elements of the desired word without regard to the order in which they should be presented—i. e., when we think of a short word we have all of its component letters in mind, and as the eye wanders over the keyboard the first one of these letters that happens to present itself is instantly "pricked down" on sight, as Falstaff picked his recruits, with no respect to order or fittingness. The mind is alert to get all the needed members of the company together, and lets not one escape, however untimely may be its presentation, while the motor nerve center, like an over-prompt and zealous sergeant instantly pushes the recruit into line without considering his file number.

Longer words are by no means exempt from similar misplacements of their component letters—just this moment I have been writing "exepmt" for exempt—and the resulting combinations, if taken out of their context, would often be as incomprehensible as the words of an unknown language. I once wrote the mysterious word "resinty," and spent some time in finding out that it represented the patched-up partial remains of "serenity." Here both inversion and skipping of letters had been in play.

But, to return to my text, the typewriting machine is a good detector of some of the imperfections of the human machine, showing where it needs a drop of oil or a little refitting. And as a detective of personality a type-written page almost ranks with fingerprints.

When The Sun Goes Out

BY ANATOLE FRANCE

The human race is not susceptible of an indeterminate progress. To allow of its development, the Earth had to conform to certain conditions, physical and chemical, which are not stable. There was a time when our planet was not suitable for mankind; it was too hot and moist. A time will come when it will cease to be suitable; it will be too cold and dry. When the sun goes out—a catastrophe that is bound to be—mankind will have long ago disappeared. The last inhabitants of earth will be as destitute and ignorant, as feeble and dull-witted, as the first. They will have forgotten all the sciences. They will huddle wretchedly in caves alongside the glaciers that will then roll their transparent masses over the half-obliterated ruins of the cities where now men think and love, suffer and hope. All the elms and lindens will have been killed by the cold; and the firs will be left sole masters of the frozen earth. The last desperate survivors of humankind—desperate without so much as realising why or wherefore—will know nothing of us, nothing of our genius, nothing of our love; yet will they be our latest-born children and blood of our blood. A feeble flicker of the regal intelligence of nobler days, still ligering in their dulled brains, will for a while yet enable them to hold their empire over the bears that have multiplied about their subterranean lurking places People and races will have disappeared beneath the snow and ice, with the towns, the highways, the gardens of the old world. With pain and difficulty a few isolated families will keep alive. Women, children, old men, crowded pell-mell in their noisome caves, will peep through fissures in the rock and watch a sombre sun mount the sky above their heads; dull yellow gleams will flit across his disk, like flames playing about a dying brand, while a dazzling snow of stars will shine on all the day long in the black heavens, through the icy air. This is what they will see; but in their heavy witlessness they will not so much as know that they see anything. One day the last survivor, callous alike to hate and love, will exhale to the unfriendly sky the last human breath. And the globe will go rolling on, bearing with it through the silent fields of space the ashes of humanity, the poems of Homer and the august remnants of the Greek marbles, frozen to its icy surfaces. No thought will ever again rise towards the infinite from the bosom of this dead world, where the soul has dared so much—at least no thought of man's. For who can tell if another thought will not grow into consciousness of itself, and this tomb where we all shall sleep become the cradle of a new soul? What soul, I cannot tell. The insect's, perhaps.

Side by side with mankind, and in spite of him, the insects, bees for instance, and ants, have already wrought marvels. True, the ants and bees are like us in needing light and heat. But there are invertebrates less sensitive to cold Who can foretell the future reserved for their activity and patience?

Who knows if the earth may not become good for them, when has ceased to be habitable by us? Who knows if they may not one day develop consciousness of themselves and the world they live in? Who knows if in their time and season they too may not praise God?

Powell Divorce Case Heard In British Court

An interesting divorce case involving the right of an Englishwoman to obtain a divorce in the United States and then return to China and remarry was brought up before Sir Skinner Turner in the British Supreme Court yesterday when Mr. S. J. Powell sued Mrs. Catherine Powell for divorce, naming Mr. E. A. Sykes of Hankow.

Mr. Ranald Macdonald appeared for Mr. Powell. Mrs. Powell and Mr. Sykes were not represented by counsel.

The facts as set out in the petition are that petitioner married on January 12, 1901, Catherine Agnes Powell (then Catherine Agnes Brigstocke, spinster) at the English Church in Cairo, and at the British Consulate there. He lived with her in Egypt, at Dulwich, and at 537 Avenue Joffre. There are two children living. Petitioner is a consulting civil engineer residing at 1408 Avenue Edward VII.

Proceedings for a decree of divorce were instituted by Catherine A. Powell at Reno, Nevada, and a decree obtained on May 5, 1921. Catherine A. Powell is residing at Hankow, and her address is care of Eric Anthony Sykes, care of Reiss and Co., Hankow.

It was alleged that adultery had taken place at Peitatho and at 666 Avenue Joffre. The petitioner asked that the marriage be dissolved and for "further relief."

Mr. Macdonald said the respondent and co-respondent were not present.

The Judge: They enter no appearance then? No.

QUESTION OF JURISDICTION

His Lordship then asked Counsel if he disputed the question of domicile determined jurisdiction.

Mr. Macdonald said he did not. He would cite the law.

His Lordship asked if it was worth while going into the facts of a case of that sort until the question of jurisdiction had been settled.

Mr. Macdonald held that the American divorce was worthless.

After a good deal of legal argument as to the question of domicile, the petitioner was called.

Sidney John Powell, consulting civil engineer, said he was born in Chester and in 1899 he went to Egypt. He was in Hongkong in 1902, Canton 1904-07, and Shanghai in 1907.

How many times have you been to England? Three times.

From 1907 up to the present time? Twice, and only for a few weeks.

What was your object in going to England? To see employers purely on a matter of business. The first occasion I stopped for three weeks and the second, in 1914, four months.

Witness intimated that he went to England to take up an appointment as he had been in communication with people as to development work in China. He was the head of the firm of Sidney J. Powell.

CHINA HIS HOME

Where do you consider your home is? In China.

When you retire where do you intend to go or remain? In China. It does not suit me in England. I cannot stand the winter there for one thing, and I find the Chinese more interesting for a man of my years.

Have you any ties or associations which would take you to England? None at all.

Where are your friends and acquaintances? In China.

With regard to your business: Is it your intention to retire soon? No, I do not expect ever to retire.

Is it your intention to take a less active part in the firm, watch it as a sleeping partner? Yes.

The Judge: Have you any partners? No.

If it was closed down tomorrow the business would stop? Practically, yes. I have Chinese friends here and am adviser to them.

What do you mean? Adviser to Chinese.

The Chinese Government? The same as the government. I have the Woosung development scheme in hand.

Is that a public body? It is a public body, an organisation of Chinese.

But it has nothing whatever to do with the Peking Government or the local government of this province? It is a private concern? I should say almost that.

Mr. Macdonald: Have you ever made a statement to anyone as to your intention? Yes, that I intend to stop in China all my life.

And your age? 50.

Mr. Macdonald said that was all the evidence he had to submit at the present time as to domicile.

The Judge remarked that Mr. Powell had informed him that he went to England in 1914, and that he had been in communication with people as to work in China, then the war broke out and he was sent to India. What as?

Witness said he was sent there by a firm to inspect and design a scheme of railways to Cashmere.

What firm? Forbes and Forbes.

Employed by them? Yes.

How long were you with these people? About six or eight months. Then I came back to China. I had a commission just after I left England in the Royal Engineers, but the General asked me to stop in India.

GIVES DETAILS

You are still in the special reserve of the Royal Engineers? Yes.

In answer to the Judge, petitioner added that his son was employed by the A. P. Co. and had been educated at Tunbridge. The daughter was with her mother in Hankow, and was educated at Orpington.

Have you any property in England? No, only a small banking account.

Mr. Macdonald: Kept for business purposes? Yes, to meet subscriptions.

The Judge inquired what these were, and was told that petitioner was a Fellow of the Royal Engineers, and a member of another club. Here he was trustee for Chinese owners of property.

The Judge said they were aware of the fact that that was a common practice.

You lease your house here, do you? Yes. I have a superstition against owning or building my own house. Of course, I am an architect as well.

Mr. Macdonald: That is my evidence.

The Judge: Have you no other? No.

Mr. Macdonald said it was very difficult to have other evidence than that put forward, unless it had been concocted some time before with the idea of creating an impression that there was intention.

The Judge asked Counsel if he wished him to hold that after 15 or 20 years' residence a man acquired domicile.

Mr. Macdonald said he did, for business and other reasons, and the financial position to retire.

The Judge: That does not affect it.

Mr. Macdonald: That is one reason for wanting to stop on.

The Judge: There are plenty of people who would like to retire.

Mr. Macdonald suggested that Shanghai was becoming more and more a foreign community, and the climate here was practically the same as in London. That was another reason why people desired to remain here the rest of their lives.

The Judge reminded Counsel that in the same way the people in England went to Egypt for the winter.

Mr. Macdonald: The climate here is not a climate which anyone brought up in England cannot enjoy, whatever their age. In a tropical country it would be different.

The Judge: Residence in Canton for instance?

The Judge: When do you suggest domicile changed?

Counsel said he had not put the question to the petitioner, but he pointed out that if petitioner had commenced divorce proceedings in England and had failed, then it would be a different case.

The Judge held that he had before him very little evidence other than business interests and length of residence. Was it of any use going into the rest of the case if he (the Judge) was against him in the question of domicile?

Counsel said that if it was held that the American divorce was all right it would be of great use to him. It would be as useful as if he was successful in his petition.

The Judge later on inquired if it was not necessary to get some specific fact as to domicile.

Counsel submitted it was not.

The Judge asked if a man had lived for 20 years in China, was he to hold that the man lived here?

Counsel said "Yes," if he had no ties at home.

The Judge asked Counsel to cite a case where only the evidence of the petitioner had been cited. This affected the status of not only one person, but several. The Singer case had been "thrown at his head," and later on probably the case that morning would be referred to. The time would come when the question of domicile would be whittled down to five or six years' residence.

Counsel held it was a question of individual cases.

The Judge: There was here a very distinct break in 1914, when he went to England.

THE TRIP TO INDIA

Recalled, petitioner said he was sent to India to inspect and report on the possibility of making a railway over a pass. His wife was in Shanghai. The task set him in India was special service during the war. China had always appealed to him.

Mr. Macdonald said that it was almost impossible to establish domicile of less than 20 years.

The Judge held that residence was not enough. Fifty years' residence might not be enough.

After some discussion as to the recognition of the Reno divorces, the Judge inquired if all the witnesses in the case were in Shanghai. He could not give judgment at once.

Counsel said the witnesses were here. (There were three Chinese witnesses in Court).

The Judge said he would give a preliminary judgment tomorrow morning at 10. If he were against petitioner his idea was that they would not proceed with the facts of the case at all. If he was with him, the case would proceed.

PHILIPPINES AT MERCY OF FOE, SIMS WARNS

U. S. Hamstrung In Pacific Retired Admiral Asserts

Guam or the Philippines can be taken by any government that wants them so long as they remain barren of military defenses, Rear Admiral William S. Sims (retired), declared in New York in a talk of the necessity for nationwide education to prevent the scrapping of the American navy. He spoke before seventy-five financiers and business men who met at the invitation of William Hamlin Childs under the auspices of the National Security League at the Union League Club.

"Any nation," said Admiral Sims, "can spit on the Philippines and you can't stop it. It can take the Philippines any time it wants to. If we got into trouble with anyone in the Western Pacific it could take Guam away. We couldn't stop it because Guam is undefended. It could be taken by the troops of Japan."

Admiral Sims explained that without a nearby base a fleet could not exist westward of Guam if it had to depend on food and supplies a point 3,000 miles away. To support a fleet in the Philippines, he said, would require 300 ships going out to the fleet with supplies and 300 ships going back.

"We are hamstrung in the Pacific," declared Admiral Sims summing up this feature of the naval situation, "and there is no need for it at all."

By expending, he said, one-half the cost of a battleship the little island of Guam could be made a "young Gibraltar." It is impossible, however, Admiral Sims declared, to convince Congress of the need, or of the need for a personnel of at least 120,000 men in the navy because the Congressmen believe that such legislation has not the support of the American people.

He declared that the compromise of Congress in providing a naval personnel of 86,000 is just a little over 70 percent of an adequate personnel, and said that a navy manned by a 70 percent personnel doesn't stand a chance with one manned 100 percent strong.

Great Britain and Japan, Admiral Sims added, are much stronger than the United States, even with the American navy fully manned. Especially in the case of Great Britain is this true, he pointed out, because the English have their merchant marine.

"It is just as impossible," he declared, "for a fleet to move without a merchant marine as it is for an army to proceed without its lines of communication."

The one great lack in this country, Admiral Sims said, is a knowledge even among the well-informed citizens of military strategy. Not a college or university in the land, to his knowledge, he said, has an instructor in strategy, while abroad there is practically not a college without such a man.

This accounts, according to the admiral, for the ignorance in matters military and makes legislation which has for its purpose the defense and safety of the country impossible.

"I don't want to say hard things about any country, including our own," he said, discussing the possibility of total disarmament, "but nations in their dealings are not honest. If they've got the force they show the other fellow where to sign on the dotted line. It's a crude way of putting it I know, but it's the truth."

TWO MAIL SHIPS DUE FROM U. S. THIS AFTERNOON

Morea Brings European Mail Tomorrow—Mail Out Saturday

Two mail boats from America are expected to arrive today, and another, from Europe via the Suez, is due tomorrow. The President Jackson which is bringing 1,851 sacks of mail and 2,500 tons of cargo for this port, will dock at the China Merchants Central Wharf about noon.

With 1,000 tons of cargo and 116 bags of mail for this port, and the San Francisco Shriners and their families en route for Manila, the President Wilson is expected to dock at the China Merchants Lower Wharf at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Both the President vessels will leave for Hongkong and Manila on Friday, the Wilson sailing at 11 o'clock that morning and the Jackson is to leave at 1 p.m.

The Morea which sailed from London on December 22 with mail, left Hongkong Monday morning and is expected to dock at the Shanghai and Hongkew Wharf about 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. Sir Ronald Macleay, the British Minister to China and Mr. Ernest Hilton, the Chief Inspector of the Salt Gabelle, are due to arrive on this vessel.

The next mail for the United States will be dispatched on the President Pierce next Saturday, and that for Europe will go on the Cordillere and the Delta next Friday and Saturday. Ordinary matter for the Cordillere will close at 11 o'clock Friday morning and registered at 10 a.m. That for the Delta is to close at 8.30 a.m. Saturday for ordinary and 9 p.m. Friday for registered.

The tender with outgoing passengers for the Cordillere will leave the French mail jetty at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, and heavy baggage should be delivered to the Company's office before noon tomorrow.

The Delta which will take mail and cargo only, and the Nellore, the regular passenger vessel, are to be dispatched for London next Saturday and are scheduled to arrive there March 19.

NEW STAR FOUND

A telegram has been received in London by the Astronomer Royal from Professor Stromdren, Director of the Central Station for Astronomical Telegrams, saying that M. Zieverel, a Rumanian astronomer, announces the discovery of a new star of the first magnitude in Right Ascension 282 degrees and North Polar distance 62 degrees.

Owing to cloudy weather it has been impossible to verify this at Greenwich but it was thought desirable to make the announcement to the Press.
